Read our statement of belief HERE. Wednesday Jun Wednesday, June 27, at 8: But the groundbreaking achievement is being overshadowed by more than a decade-old child abuse scandal that has come back to haunt the singer and his wife. In , something tragic and horrific occurred inside the home of James and Cheryl Fortune that is sending immediate shockwaves throughout the Christian community. As the details leak out, the story gets more disturbing. After acting out in school, Mr. In a punishment not befitting of the crime, official documents say James Fortune whipped the boy naked with a switch, and pushed him into a tub of scalding hot bath water and held him there. The young victim remained in Shriners Burn Hospital in Galveston for 63 days. But, at the last minute, Fortune pulled out, saying his legal counsel advised him not to discuss details of the case. The gifted, musically inclined young man headed up the youth choir at just 13 years old. The child reportedly has memories of the horrifying incident, as well as nightmares with images like skin and blood being in the bathtub water. The victim is said to recall being told to take his clothes off, being whipped naked, as well as his stepfather pushing him in the tub, and not letting him out of the tub. According to court records and audio from the emergency call, however, Fortune first told the operator that his stepson burned himself in the tub. Later, Fortune pled guilty to Felony Injury to a child and was given six years Deferred Adjudication. Deferred Adjudication s a form of plea deal available in various jurisdictions, where a defendant pleads "guilty" or "No Contest" to criminal charges in exchange for meeting certain requirements laid out by the court within an allotted period of time also ordered by the court. Upon completion of the requirements, which may include probation, treatment, community service, or some form of community supervision, the defendant may avoid a formal conviction on their record or have their case dismissed. In some cases, an order of non-disclosure can be obtained, and sometimes a record can be expunged. In a second statement, James Fortune had this to say: In the midst of negotiating a settlement regarding that injury, I was served with a lawsuit and now my wife and I are defending ourselves in civil court. At no time in the life was I convicted of felony injury to a child. Since that time, my family and I, including my stepson, have maintained and continuous loving family environment. Although his father has maintained custody, Cheryl and I have enjoyed continuous uninterrupted open visitation with my step-son since We are shocked by this lawsuit but understand people are free to use the court system tp pursue matter, whether or not they claims are baseless. We are confident through this believe in our American justice system and know that once all the fact are made transparent justice will prevail in our favor. This lawsuit is a direct result of our desire to continue the uninterrupted love, commitment, and financial support as well as to protect the ongoing wellbeing while enhancing the current living condition of our son. We have given our stepson his is currently in our car during the summer break continuous support and understand these allegations are a direct result of not only our increased profile and financial viability but an individual desire to exploit such. We intend to vehemently defend our right to protect our family while maintaining the character integrity and trusted core values the Fortune family has been blessed to exemplify.
