From the capital Tbilisi, we travel north to the striking Mount Kazbek m. On a classic 6 days point to point trek we will walk across the Abudulauri, Tsubrovana and Borbalo passes and deep into the remote Khevsureti Range. Crossing open ridges, with far-reaching views, we descend through flower-filled mountain pastures into steep-sided and forested valleys, where we find the fortified medieval villages Mutso and Shatili. Brief Itinerary Meet at Tbilisi hotel, single airport transfer provided. Short walk Gergeti Trinity Church. Drive to camp m. From Juta to our camp at the foot of Mt. Chaukhebi m, via Tetu Peak m. Descend through meadows, forest and along the river to Gudani m and our camp near the village of Atabe m. Trek across the Barbalo pass m and descend to the Arghuni River m and our camp at Kistani m. A challenging days trek across the Tsubrovana Pass m and descending to Ardoti village m. Visit the ancient villages of Shatili and Mutso before returning to Tbilisi. A full day for sightseeing in Tbilisi and to discover the ancient capital of Mtskheta. Early morning single transfer to Tbilisi Airport is provided. Is this holiday for you? This is an adventurous trekking holiday through the remote south side of the Caucasus Mountains. However, it is not a particularly high-level trek, and with its maximum elevation only a little above metres, the effects of altitude will be a minor consideration. Our route follows trails between valleys and villages, and the underfoot conditions should prove straightforward for the most part, although there are a couple of steep ascents and descents as we cross the passes, and some paths which are through much vegetation. Most of the trekking days involve hiking for 5 or 6 hours, but we have two longer days with around 10 hours of walking. This trek is supported, so you will only need to carry your day pack each day.

We travel to grow our Adventure Guides show you how. Experience the places you visit more directly, freshly, intensely than you would otherwise sometimes best done on foot, in a canoe, or through cultural adventures like art courses, cooking classes, learning the language, meeting the people, joining in the festivals and celebrations.

It is famous for its mountainous terrain that looks like it came straight out of the movie "The Sound of Music". Imagine, lush green fields as far as the eyes can see covering a whole mountain range. This was the view I saw when I was traveling around Georgia for 2 weeks. Me and a couple friends went a full-on adventure as we arrived in Kazbegi. We went and hiked up to the glacier on our first day, followed by a full-day mountain biking adventure to one of the many beautiful valleys in the area. If you like nature as much as I do, Kazbegi is not to be missed. Video How to Get Here The best way to get here is to fly into Tbilisi and take a marshrutka from there. I would recommend you browse through Skyscanner or Momondo to find all the cheap flights from where you live to Georgia and compare them so that you can find the one best fit for your itinerary. From Tbilisi, go to the Didube autostation if you crossed the border from Turkey to Georgia via a minivan, this is the same station and look for a Marshrutka minivan that is going to Kazbegi. The marshrutka here operates like Dolmus in Turkey which means that they will go when the van is full. It should cost you no more than 10 - 12 GEL and it will take you around 2 - 3 hours depending on the road condition it was horrendous for us. It is a cozy family-run guesthouse with large dorm rooms decorated in Victorian style. We even had a piano in our room. The price is cheap and the food there is quite a bargain. The family home-cooked both breakfast and dinner for us every day as we sit in a kitchen socializing with other hikers. It really felt like home when I was there. As you arrive at the bus stop, walk toward the bridge, cross the river and walk up a hill for a few minutes. On the second intersection, turn left and the guesthouse should be on your right. Daily Budget This place is quite cheap compare to all the other countries in the world. If you are planning a trip here, you can expect to pay around 25 - 45 USD per day per person and that should include accommodation and 3 meals. Keep in mind that this is just a suggested daily budget based on my style of traveling, which is leaning more toward the budget side of things. If you want to stick to this budget, expect to sleep in dorms, eat out only a few times, and be comfortable using the cheapest and most convenient way of transportation, which often times involves walking. Travel Insurance If you are looking for a travel insurance to go along with your trip to Armenia, I would recommend WorldNomads. They have a simple and flexible search system that allowed me to find the right insurance for the right amount of time at an affordable price in seconds. If you need a travel insurance, give WorldNomads. It is situated under Mt Kazbegi at an elevation of meters. Right from the guest house, you can follow a path through a small village until you reach a path up through thick forest. It should take you 1 hour one way to hike up to the church. From the church, you will get an epic panoramic view of the whole valley. It is definitely worth the hike. The church was built in the 14th century and due to its isolation in the steep mountainous area full of nature, it remains one of the most iconic tourist attraction in Georgia. Hike to the Gergeti Glacier From the church, you can continue to hike to the glacier which would take around 4 more hours one way. If you start your day early and hike the church before noon, you can fit this trail in one day. This trail is usually used by hikers and trekkers who are summiting Kazbegi so you will meet quite a bit of people on your way. This trail is a little bit harder than the one to the church so be prepared. Pack enough food and water with you because this will take you a whole day 12 hours to complete. You also have to walk back the same length so calculate your daylight hours carefully. Unfortunately, the higher we went the cloudier it got so we did not see the glacier. We stopped at one of the ridge looking down at the nonexistent glacier and turned back. Keep in mind that 21 km, half of it will be going up hill so this will take you all day but I promised you, it is worth it. You can rent a bike for a day from one of the many bike shops in Stepantsminda. The quality is top notch though. From Stepantsminda, I rode down south and turn left at the first big intersection toward Sno Valley. The vegetation around this valley was quite a sight to behold. Colorful flowers, lush green field were quite a common sight here Let me get this out of the way, I am not good at mountain biking and the trail to the Sno Valley was so steep I ended up hiking with my bike instead. At the Juta Village, there is a hotel, a restaurant and a killer view of the jagged mountain range. Unfortunately, it was a little shy that day as it hid behind the clouds. Going down was SO much fun though. Stop at the Ananuri church On your way back to Tbilisi, you can ask the minivan driver to drop you off at the Ananuri church, a castle complex on the emerald-colored Aragvi River and go for a swim. You may recognize this castle from somewhere. I took the photo of the Ananuri church at the exact same perspective as you see from the cover. You will only find small shops selling coffee and khachapuri. Since we did not have a car, we had to hitchhike back to Tbilisi. It took us almost 3 hours to get a lift since we were unable to find an appropriate place to stand and stick our thumbs out. It may also be because we were 2 guys? If you are not comfortable hitchhiking than I suggest you rent a car or skip this place. Hitchhiking in Georgia It is very common to hitchhike here. It is cheap, it is a good way to meet the local and it is very simple since all the road goes through Tbilisi. You just need to stand at a strategic location where people have time to process their thoughts and have enough space to stop for you. The villages are quite remote and a nice vibe cafe with Internet and power outlets are no where to be found. I would recommend you work at the place you are staying for maximum reliability.
