There are one or two of the others who are not expected to survive. At a meeting of the citizens, convened on the occasion, a committee was appointed to provide for the sick, and to make arrangements for the burial of the dead. Six of the unfortunate sufferers having died on Wednesday night, were interred yesterday, attended by a very numerous concourse of citizens. American Friend, June 14, The body of a man was found on the evening of the 8th inst. A coroners inquest was held over the body on the 9th - the opinion was that he came by his death by scalding. It is probably the above described body is the same mentioned in our last as missing, and from the circumstance of his appearing to be very much scalded, there can be no doubt but he was on board the steam-boat Washington at the time of the late unfortunate occurrence. American Friend, July 26, Suicide. On Saturday last the body of Mr. Nathan Cole, of Warren in this County, was found in a well in this town. American Friend, August 16, The body of a man was found in the Ohio river on Saturday last, about one and a half miles below town and about three rods from the Ohio shore, by a man who was descending the river in a canoe. He drew the body to shore and came immediately to town with the information. A coroners inquest was held and by the evident marks of violence on the face and temple, were unanimously of opinion that he was murdered by some person or persons unknown. The deceased was recognized to be a stranger who stopped in town on Thursday last and purchased a canoe for the purpose of descending the Ohio to the falls - while in town he fell company with one Levi Davis, who agreed to accompany and row him safely down. The next morning Davis was seen descending the river alone, and went no farther than Parkersburgh before he sold the canoe and clothing which belonged to the deceased, but never intimated that such a person was missing, and continued there till Saturday, when he went a few miles further and shipped on board a boat to go to Pittsburgh - the boat arrived at Marietta on Sunday - Davis was known and immediately arrested. Although no positive proof was adduced, circumstances were very strong and he was committed to prison to await his trial before the Supreme Court, to be holden at Marietta in October next. American Friend, September 6, We are informed that a man by the name of William Reece, of Newport in this county was accidentally killed on Monday last, by the falling of a stick of timber from a barn he was assisting to raise. Two women, at Wooster, who were riding through the woods on Friday last in the time of a thunder shower, were both knocked down by a flash of lightning which struck a tree near at hand. One of their horses were killed and the women considerably injured. The women suppose they lay on the spot senseless for the space of an hour. American Friend, November 22, Laidley and daughter of James G. Laidley, Esq of Parkersburgh, Va. This amiable child was snatched away in a few hours from the arms of affectionate and disconsolate parents by one of those dreadful accidents that so strongly display the uncertain tenure of human life; but which no prudence could foresee, nor care prevent. While attending the Parkersburgh School conducted by the Rev. Her remains were interred the following day at the burial ground of Mr. Joseph Cook, attended by the children of the school, and a very respectable number of her friends and acquaintance - to whom her afflicted parents now take the opportunity of returning their sincere thanks for the last tribute of respect to a much loved child. American Friend, December 6, The chain of circumstances was so strongly connected, as given in testimony by persons acquainted with them, left not a doubt in the breasts of the Court, Jury or the numerous spectators who attended the trial, that he, for the purpose of gain, took the life of the unfortunate stranger. The Court then pronounced his sentence - to be confined in the Penitentiary at hard labor, twenty-one years from the day of trial. Since his trial and sentence, he has confessed the fact. American Friend, May 30, Fearing, May 22d, Sir "My anxiety to have those who are guilty of the atrocious crime of murder apprehended and brought to receive their just dues, induces me to communicate to you a description of three foot travelers who passed through this place on the 11th inst. But not having seen the advertisement which appeared in your paper describing the murderers of Mr. Combs of Kentucky till two days after, they were permitted to pass without molestation. One of them appeared to be about five feet ten or eleven inches high, rather spare, dark complexion, dark eyes, hair and whiskers, and had on a dark brown coat, a striped light colored waistcoat, cord or velvet pantaloons of a dark, perhaps olive color; he had on shoes, and wore an oil-cloth over his hat. The others were lower and rather of a heavy make: By a bruise or otherwise, he had lost the use of a joint in one of his fingers that rendered it somewhat crooked, and had received a wound on his right foot which had cut off the cords of two or three of his toes and considerably disfigured his foot. The other two crossed the Ohio river into Virginia, and traveled up the Ohio as far as the mouth of Fishing Creek, where they parted. The one who was supposed to be about thirty years old was arrested a short distance from where they parted, when he was measured and interrogated. To give you a detail of the particulars which substantiated the suspicion that they were guilty of some heinous crime, would absorb time and weary your patience; suffice it to say, they would inquire the road to one place and steer to another, and that they very frequently changed their names. If someone in Kentucky would more particularly describe the murderers of Mr. Combs, perhaps they would bestow on the public a favor which would be instrumental in their yet being detected. American Friend, January 9, [see January 2, , p. John Teirnan, who is suspected of having murdered Patrick Campbell, on the night of the 6th of December instant, at Turtle Creek, on the Pittsburgh turnpike road, absconded on Sunday the 7th inst. It is supposed that he crossed the Monongahela river, and made for Virginia or Ohio. Teirnan is about forty or forty-five years of age; about five feet six or seven inches high; a red face; large nose; and is much given to liquor. He is a native Irishman; and his speech is strongly marked with the Irish dialect. He says he came from Connaught. He professes to be a gardener, and pretends to have great skill in gardening. He took with him a dark bay mare, about thirteen or fourteen hands high, racks and paces; a saddle, bridle and martingale, and between twenty and thirty dollars in money; all belonging to the deceased. As the deceased is not known to have any friends in America, and has left but trifling property, a reasonable reward will be given for the apprehension of the murderer, if required, to be paid on his conviction; but it is expected, that every virtuous citizen, will feel himself under an obligation to have him brought to justice, without regard to fee or reward. American Friend, June 12, Amlin, son of Mr. James Amlin of Fearing in this County, aged 20 years. This young man, accompanied by four others, went into the creek to bathe; he had once crossed the creek and was on his return when he found the water was deeper than he expected, not being a swimmer, gave the alarm that he was drowning "the others went immediately to his assistance, two of whom sunk with him and nearly shared his fate; they, however, extricated themselves from his grasp and reached the shore. His loss is deeply lamented by his relations and friends, of whom he had many. A young man by the name of Isaac Hersey was drowned in the Ohio near Mr. There was found in his possession a deed of , and odd, acres of land; a small sum of money and some clothing, which are now in the hands of Mr. It is said his relations live between Waterford and Olive-Green, on, or near the Muskingum river. American Friend, July 10, Died, at Belpre, on 1st instant, Mr. John Rouse, aged 77 years. He and his family emigrated, from New Bedford, in Massachusetts, to this country in the year He came to his death, as is supposed, by drowning. About the middle of that day, when it was very hot, he was seen standing by a small pool, watering his horse. It is supposed that the increase of heat from the reflection of the water caused him to faint; in about an hour after, he was found dead, lying in the water, with his face nearly half out of it. On the 4th inst. Thomas Harper, of this town. American Friend, March 17, About four weeks since, two persons descended the Ohio river, and landed at this place in a canoe, in which was salted in bulk a quantity of pork. At the same time there was another stranger descending the river in a skiff, in which he had nothing but a trunk. These persons called the same evening at Mr. The stranger in the skiff proposed remaining there for the night; but those in the canoe urged him to proceed down with them a short distance, and encamp in the woods, to which he finally agreed. Some time in the night Mr. They heard a gun, and concluded the strangers might have shot one of his hogs. This occasioned him to go very early to the place where they had encamped. He there found a large quantity of blood had been flowing, in which was found considerable human hair, and brains; an axe was also lying near the place very bloody. There was also the trace of a body drawn on the ground, which could be distinctly followed from the spot where the blood first was found, to the river, and the print of fingers seen in the mud where the body was drawn. A human body was seen the same morning, in the ice which then nearly filled the river by several persons who reside below Mr. The persons who were in the canoe represented themselves as having come from the Kanawha Salt works, and bound to the mouth of the Scioto. The person supposed to be murdered, had mentioned, in the hearing of the others, that he had about dollars in money with him, and an order payable at Cincinnati for a like sum. Although these circumstances are not such as to fully prove that a murder has been committed, yet they are such as should engage the attention of the public, until the fact be proved, or the suspicions removed. It is to be regretted that the circumstances above related were not sooner made public. The chance of detecting the perpetrators, if the supposed murder was actually committed, would then have been greater than it now is. American Friend, July 21, Died, Drowned, on Sunday, the 16th inst. John Walsh, a native of Canada. The editors of papers in that quarter, would confer a favor on his friends by giving the above an insertion. American Friend, July 28, Was drowned in the Ohio, twenty-five miles above Marietta, on the 16th of July, John Walch, in rashly attempting to wade the river; search was immediately made and the body found in about three hours and an half, a few rods from where he was seen to sink, and taken out and decently buried. Jolly, living in Grandview, Washington county, State of Ohio. He had with him a small Catholic Prayer and Psalm book. If he has any friends living they can have his clothing and tools, by properly applying. Printers throughout the United States will please give the above a few insertions, that his friends may know of his untimely fate. American Friend, October 13,

The tongue is set among our members, staining the whole body, setting on fire the entire course of life, and set on fire by hell. Do not despise prophecies, but test everything; hold fast what is good. Abstain from every form of evil. I came that they may have life and have it abundantly. When his mother Mary had been betrothed to Joseph, before they came together she was found to be with child from the Holy Spirit. And her husband Joseph, being a just man and unwilling to put her to shame, resolved to divorce her quietly. She will bear a son, and you shall call his name Jesus, for he will save his people from their sins. So Joab and the commanders of the army went out from the presence of the king to number the people of Israel. They crossed the Jordan and began from Aroer, and from the city that is in the middle of the valley, toward Gad and on to Jazer. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character, for he is a liar and the father of lies. And David sought the face of the Lord. Now the Gibeonites were not of the people of Israel but of the remnant of the Amorites. Although the people of Israel had sworn to spare them, Saul had sought to strike them down in his zeal for the people of Israel and Judah. And how shall I make atonement, that you may bless the heritage of the Lord? Do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewal of your mind, that by testing you may discern what is the will of God, what is good and acceptable and perfect. Therefore let your words be few. The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. He makes me lie down in green pastures. He leads me beside still waters. He restores my soul. Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for you are with me; your rod and your staff, they comfort me. You prepare a table before me in the presence of my enemies; you anoint my head with oil; my cup overflows.
