Add a photo to this gallery Another milk commercial was Buttercup exclusive in which she is waiting in the class line to be given her chocolate milk. Just as she is getting closer, the Gangreen Gang burst in and steal the milk from the other students. Buttercup gets angry as Big Billy dumps one of them on her and she attacks and beats them up. The commercial ends when she takes one un-opened milk and drinks it as Ace rolls over to the beaten up pile of Gangreen Gang laying there as "Got Milk" appears. A banana milk commercial was made as well, involving Bubbles playing during recess. She notices a little boy seemingly upset by the empty banana flavored milk container and suddenly Mojo Jojo pops out of a nearby sandcastle. He reveals he took all of the banana milk and Bubbles questions this before he tries to make a escape. To no avail of course. He is captured under a set of monkey bars and Bubbles is shown drinking the banana milk. As each girl had a special milk commercial, Blossom was given Strawberry Milk. As the kids board the bus, someone is stealing their Strawberry Milks as a sign above says "No Strawberry milk". Blossom thinks this is unfair and realizes its Fuzzy Lumpkins. He tries to escape when Blossom hits a button causing the STOP sign to pop out and knock him unconscious. She then holds her strawberry milk and drinks from it as the commercial ends. A special coppersone commercial was also made, in which the girls head outside only to be stopped at the door. They each wonder what they may have forgotten, then go to leave again. They stop as the sun blinds them and someone hands them sunscreen. The professor puts it on them as the screen showing the product appears. Showing that for a limited time you could collect powerpuff Girl figurines. A short commercial was made to show off the Powerpuff Girl watches from Trendmasters. It featured small clips from the show, and showed off the qualities of said watch and more details regarding it, like what it was capable of doing and its features. He is shown inside a boutique cutting her hair at a quick and rapid pace. Taking a final snip he seems happy with his work, then proceeds to turn her to face the audience. In another bumper the girls are playing hide and seek. Buttercup is having trouble finding them when Blossom peaks out from behind a pillar like part of wall and she looks to Bubbles who is hiding in the ceiling. A even shorter bumper involves Wanted posters of the villians when Blossom suddenly flies by. And in another short one, it shows Mojo Jojo stealing fruit from the super market. Another short bumper involves the girls flying to their bedroom while the Professor tells them goodnight and sits with his newspaper. In another bumper the mayor was stuck in traffic. One of the bumpers includes the girls in the training room when suddenly the Professor changes the dial and three of the older CN characters appear surrounding the girls. In another bumper, Mojo Jojo is seen eating a banana, then throws away the peel. Meanwhile the Powerpuff Girls are at home watching him when Blossom comments, "Geez Louise, can you believe this guy? In a special commercial all of the villains are seen in Anger Management. The guy suggest a little role playing and talks to Mojo who he tells to be Bubbles his impression makes Sedusa and Princess laugh. The man ask why Mojo is being hostile, to which he explains he saw a small keychain featuring him at the mini-mart. The others feel bad until Mojo talks of making the PPGs pay for what they have done. The man tries another approach, saying "Lets try a perspective check, Mojo is upset over a keychain. Then when he raises his hand, all of the villians do the same. He then ask them what they are there to take control of, everyone replies with their anger. He suggest they take control of their anger and push it into a ball. In another live action commercial two males are playing a game when they hear a sudden thud outside. As she gets up, Blossom says "Its Blossom Man. The guys wonder what that was all about and soon as they walk away. Mojo can be seen scratching at the television screen, while the glass door is scratched up. This was also made as a trailer, but they cut off the part where Mojo scratches the glass door. Another small commercial was developed for Chuck E. Bellum and Mojo are in a closet. Everyone gets so annoyed with him they attack him, then throw him out. Another special promo was made, showing someone living a daily life of living in Townsville. It begins with a male driving to work when a monster nearly steps on his car, he ignores and continues to drive. He continues and soon parks, ignoring the giant eye monster trying to zap everything and heads inside his work building. While in the bank Mojo soon begins to turn the people into dogs once more, using the Anubis head statue while the guy puts his money into his mouth. Soon hit by the beam himself. Now at his work he gets into the elevator to see the Gangreen Gang inside. By the time his elevator stops he is covered in graffiti. Now in his office he changes suits and ignores the giant eye monster, shutting his curtains on it. A random live action commercial was shown in which girls were training to be in the "Powerpuff Patrol". This was made as part of a series of promos made for the Cartoon Cartoon Fridays block. One dealt with the three girls playing a game of cards. The in another one Peach is talking to the girls and Blossom suddenly holds up the cards from earlier. The CN logo then pops up, as she had made this mark through the window. In another commercial Ken is shown, he poses as Blossom pops up suddenly, followed by Buttercup, and then Bubbles? Professor Utonium is dressed as Bubbles! Just then the real Bubbles, Miyako burst in and when the girls look at Professor, the camera zooms in on the compact in his belt to show the CN logo.

Chapter 2 : Bubbles in the Middle by Aaron Rosenberg

Bubbles in the Middle is a gamebook, the sixteenth in the Powerpuff Girls Plus You Club series. Synopsis. What would Bubbles Do? Think like Bubbles, the mild-mannered sister of the superpowered crime-fighting team known as the Powerpuff Girls. by picking which page to turn to, decide what Bubbles will do and where she will go in your very own Powerpuff.

Because of a kidnapping incident with his parents, he was abandoned as a puppy, found by the ever-kind Muriel, and began fearing everything abnormal. He is willing to risk his own life to protect her at all costs. Unfortunately, his irrationality sometimes causes others to doubt his intuition. Courage has been presented as an almost entirely selfless character, working to benefit others with usually little to no regard for his own well being, proving that he is, in fact, courageous. He usually communicates his emotions through whines and howls as he presumably prefers. Courage was first introduced after the fight between Dexter and the Powerpuff Girls when they were called over by Jack. Bubbles found Courage and Jack explained how he got him. Once an old lady came at his door and asked him if he could take care of the badly wounded Courage. Suddenly Bubbles got attacked by the Dread Dragon and Courage warned the others. Later he appeared when Buttercup came into trouble and Jack and the professor decided that Courage must stay with Buttercup to take notes of everything she does. Courage then also spent a lot time with Bubbles after that. Courage appeared also a lot with Buttercup after she learned cooking. He was her partner on the beach and at the science fair. When the Clusters came into the science fair Courage helped evacuating several people including Weasel. He was seen with Bubbles trying to defend the people from the Cluster bugs, then he help carry Bubbles to the safe room to help out the scientists open the door. Courage was helping Bubbles open the door when he kicked the door and hurt his foot. Courage was later seen with a slambat possibly trying to helping Bubbles keeping the door closed from the Cluster monster. Bubbles apologizes to Courage then apologizes again that it has to be this way then said sorry again. Courage said, while stuttering that she gave him a chance to be in a new family and he wanted that. Courage also seems to be crying. Courage then finally says that he believes her as the light blue light goes to them. However, this is only occasional and is assumed to be used for comedic effect. Courage has shown he can speak English. He only has showed his fighting abilities during the evacuation at the science fair. For example, Courage could scream so loud that he often caused objects around him to shatter, break, or form deep chasms in the earth although this might have been more for comedic effect. The most well known of his abilities, is his shape-shifting. He commonly uses this ability to transform into something similar to an event he just witnessed in a usually futile attempt to warn Muriel and Eustace of impending danger or will just turn into random things completely irrelevant to what he saw. Though capable of speaking fluent English, Courage mostly does so to the viewers and other non-human characters, largely tending to speak in unintelligible gibberish to most human characters. He tends to whisper "Oh no" to himself, when something bad is going on. He also sometimes states, "Something fishy is going on, or my name is [something absurd] In the show, he has also displayed incredible strength he broke the sun , invincibility although he does get hurt , great stamina he never gives up , and durability. Whether or not Courage will display these powers in the comic is of yet, unknown, although he has shape-shifted once already into the Dread Dragon. History A pink puppy was born to Henry and his kind wife in a large, gated property. He was raised through example, and was quick to learn a lesson. Though his parents had an aristocratic fascination in canine objects, his well being was always of the utmost concern. While successfully learning to catch a ball, he accidentally got his head stuck in between the bars of the fence and he was taken to the Pets of Tomorrow veterinarian office. Here, he was freed by a seemingly kind doctor , who gave him a lollipop and ushered him out of the room so he could "speak" to his parents alone. His tongue got stuck to the surface of the sucker, and then tore off, so the baby dog rushed back to be nurtured by his mother. When he returned, the three were gone, and screams pleading for assistance could be heard from the hallway. He abandoned his candy and rushed in to find the vet carrying his parents away in a net. They begged the doctor to not separate them from their son. He rushed after them into a room of caged dogs, and then into another room where he discovered his parents being forced into a rocket ship. He tried to help them before its launch, but failed, as his fear drove him to flee into a garbage chute which led to a back alley. From there he watched as his family was sent away into space, while waving a tearful goodbye to them. Crying alone, he was found by a young red-haired Scottish woman who offered to take him home. Later to be known as Muriel. She named him Courage. Courage is the protagonist of the show, and an overly frightened dog who lives in Nowhere, Kansas. He was abandoned as a puppy after his parents were sent into outer space, but was adopted by Muriel Bagge. Her husband, Eustace, regularly mistreats him. Aiding him at saving the day is a self-aware, sarcastic, and seemingly omniscient Computer that he keeps in the attic with which he could consult for information in how to remedy any predicament he faces though it never fails to badmouth him in one way or another. He got his name when Muriel found him as a puppy alone in an alley and remarked that he must be quite brave to be there by himself.

On occasion, he can be much more aggressive than either of his brothers. He is wearing a green sports jersey with a 1 on it. He is also wearing black shorts and black sneakers. He also wears a black muscle shirt with a green phoenix in the middle with wings in the back. Black skinny jeans with green flames on the bottom. A green belt with a phoenix buckle, and multiple chains hanging from it, gold zippers with chains hanging from them. Black Nikes with green outline. Has piercings at the bottom of his left ear and another at the top of right Emerald Left , Peridot Right. Wears with spiked cuffs with wrist length fingerless black gloves, a gold winged cross with a emerald in the middle, and a silver necklace with emeralds and peridots imbedded in it. Has a gold wedding band with a emerald heart and a peridot heart encircled with a rose in the middle. His signature color is green. While all boys love to cause havoc, Butch seems to enjoy it the most. Butch seems to be a version of Buttercup and a little bit like Vegeta that had all her battle-lust and none of her conscious. While Buttercup is sweeter, Butch has no sense of regret at all. He has a tendency to twitch when he gets particularly excited in a fight. In PPGD he is still the same albeit a little calmer. He holds a hatred for Principal Skarr much like Buttercup does. Personality While all boys love to cause havoc, Butch seems to enjoy it the most. Butch seems to be a version of Buttercup and a little bit like Vegeta that had all her battlelust and none of her conscious. Bubbles kisses her counterpart Boomer first and Blossom does hers without complaint. Once he was kissed, Butch screams in horror and explodes in a bright flash of green light. After Butch was resurrected, he had taken on a new hair style, with his spikes pointing upward, versus the original single cowlick. In the episode The Boys are Back in Town. When she freaks out, Buttercup then flies over and punches Butch in the face. Due to the punch, Butch accidentally bites his tongue. Seeing this, Blossom realizes that when their masculinity is threatened, they shrink in size. The girls do various things to embarrass them, and they are then defeated. In the episode The City of Clipsville he and his brothers alongside the Powerpuff Girls, seem to be more like normal teenagers, even going as far as to have a slacker-ish attitude and he even drives an escalade, which the ditzy teenage Buttercup mistakes for an escalator. Butch and his brothers also hold romantic interests in their counterparts to the point where they schedule dates with them. In the episode Bubble Boy, a more calm side of Butch is shown, implying that the battle lust that Butch always seems to have only shows when he is around the Powerpuff Girls. His final appearance was in the episode Custody Battle. HIM and Mojo Jojo were bickering over who was the most evil, but in actuality, was trying to best each other in a show of evil to find out who should be the father figure to the Rowdyruff Boys. Butch is likely able to create an energy shield that can be used to absorb energy[7]. Butch is able to produce energy blasts. Butch is likely able to fire lasers from his eyes, like the Powerpuff Girls can. Butch and his brothers are able to fly, without the need of wings[8]. Brick and his borther are able to heat objects by simply looking at it. Sonic Boom Generation Possibly: Butch and his brothers is likely able to create sonic booms, that devastating their environment[7]. Butch and his brothers are extremely durable, and far more durable than the Powerpuff Girls[8]. Butch and his brothers are very fast. Their speed is likely on par or even surpassing the speed of the Powerpuff Girls, which would mean their speed is absolute and allows them to travel through time[8]. Butch and his brothers are extremely strong, with their strength levels far surpassing those of the Powerpuff Girls[8]. While flying, Butch and his brothers can produce an obtrusively smoke in their color. The smoke disables the sight and breathing of all who are caught in it[8]. Butch and his brothers are likely able to see through objects.
