

Chapter 1 : HOME - Carpers Paradise

Carpers Paradise was created by extremely keen anglers who combined their years of experience and overseas fishing knowledge to create an amazing carp fishing experience for other anglers. Mitchell was born into the industry by his father who managed the Cemex complexes back in the 90s, he has a clear vision of wild carp fishing and has been.

Rusin is president of North American operations at Affinion Group , a company that monitors the criminal underground for several thousand banking institutions by lurking in carder chat rooms. Affinion is one of the largest identity protection companies in the world, with offices in more than a dozen countries. Over the years, it has provided a wealth of information to the U. Secret Service and the FBI. A few weeks ago, Affinion identified. Mac users who found themselves victims of a phishing scam. While scrolling through posts in an online underground criminal forum on his laptop, Rosin explained that since "every American keeps some money in their savings account," unlike when stealing credit cards, debit cards grant thieves immediate access to cash. Next in demand are usernames and passwords because "most people use the same password on the sites they visit. What Rusin showed me on his laptop were bold, even boastful, claims. Threaded among the expected offers in the forum were those for proxy servers and bullet-proof servers i. These are used in conjunction with phishing kits packages that help you create your own fake Bank of America page , which are also for sale. Carders are tremendously paranoid. Often, just to gain access to the forums, you have to demonstrate your chops by providing up to five active credit card account numbers. Rusin says Affinion has been establishing its carder credentials since or so. There is a predictable pattern. Once that transaction is authenticated, a flood of illegal purchases cascade in until the card account is shut down. The effect is immediate, and the losses can be large. The next most common use, according to Rusin, is new-account creation. This is a slower process, and it often involves establishing utility accounts. So your identity in the underground is worth about 20 bucks. Unfortunately, personal information is going to flow, admits Rusin. He cites high-profile data breaches such as the ones affecting ChoicePoint and the parent company of TJ Maxx. Rusin, whose company also sells ID protection services, likens the process of ID monitoring to having a smoke detector: In addition to having antivirus software and a firewall to protect our digital information on our desktops, it looks as if we now need ID protection for our real-world information as well.

Make sure your IP is hidden,so check your IP with sites like www. Here is a small and well know trick,but my blog is for n00bs so I will write the trick. Use domain like yahoo or hotmail,and make the first e-mail using the card holder name for register. For the second e-mail ,you have to use other name,NOT use the name of cvv holder. Sign up for a new account. The account you must register using the cvv holder details name,address,state,zip and the e-mail address you just made on the cvv holder name from 3-rd step 5th step Try to act like a genuine costumer,search for the product in this case e-gift cards you want to buy and pick up the gift card you will like to buy. I advice you to make sure the cvv is alive and has enough fund to cover the price of the gift card. Now you will be re-directed to the delivery address and payment page. On the delivery details page ,fill with a fake name and the second e-mail you made on step 3. Much care you should give on the phone number. Many carders give a fake phone number and this is the reason that their purchase request fail and they never get the gift cards. So,if you got the cvv holder phone number ,use that but change the last 2 digits or use the correct cvv holder phone number. So here is the way to do this. Go to a spoof call service web site and purchase some credits with cvv. Then use your pre-paid sim phone sim to spoof your phone number and call the web-shop from where you try to puchase the gift cards. You must move fast,so if you intend to purchase high value gift cards,get spoof call credits before start carding for gift cards. Exactly after you post the e-gift cards purchase order call the web shop and confirm with them the order,using the cvv holder details. I think is not necessary to say but Then you will receive a second e-mail "your order was successful completed! Check your second e-mail address,at this point in the Inbox folder shell be a mail containing your gift cards. Upload the gift cards into the new account and start shopping! An other way to use the gift cards is to re-sale them. And some other way is

More Articles April 03, In the modern era, our personal information is more or less our identity. But our identities are under constant threat of being stolen by hackers online. Nearly 16 million people suffered from identity theft in If you think people are just stealing your credit card numbers or your social security, you would be wrong. The market is called Carders Paradise. They are selling the account information of individuals on those sites. Those sites include well-known names like Amazon. They also want some of your accounts where you accumulate points. All they have to do is change a little bit of information to have the items they desire sent to themselves. By the time you have figured anything out, they have made off with the loot. Or they can use your eBay account to sell a bunch of fake items and ruin your reputation. These sites operate completely anonymously. The black market thrives on the dark web If you know an in, you can get anything on the dark web. Krebs, for example, had to have a friend of a friend invite him to use Carders Paradise. There are thousands of sites on the dark web where you can find anything you want. From drugs and identities to guns and people. It is truly the lawless frontier we can barely keep up with. Your identity is really cheap for hackers Your invaluable secrets are actually pretty cheap on the black market. There are some outliers like frys. The price is predicated primarily on a couple of factors: The sites liquidity ratio how fast the items can be turned into cash , and supply and demand. A little like how Facebook sells your identity to businesses , these sites sell your identity to criminals. Your life can be ruined and you can lose complete control in some cases of identity theft. One woman had such a bad case of identity theft, that the person whole stole her identity literally took over her life. After that, you have to start a fraud monitoring service, change all of your passwords, file a police report, file a report with the FTC, and so on. Sometimes you have to monitor your credit and accounts for years after the incident. A lot of the technology that is used to create these shadow sites on the dark web is primarily used for individuals to browse the internet anonymously. People in suppressed states like Iran or China depend on these types of technology to browse freely. Even if there is a movement made towards shutting some of these black market sites down, more just pop up and the technology gets even more elaborate. There are sites that are completely hidden unless you are invited to join it. We touched on that earlier with Carders Paradise. If you can do this one thing, your accounts will be safer. Change your passwords often Try to stay one step ahead of hackers. You should also change them regularly. People can have as many as 30 different online identities, according to Krebs , that are ripe for the picking. Follow The Cheat Sheet on Facebook!
