(BSA Cyber Chip blue card) I've seen it mentioned several places, such as here, that there's supposed to be a free downloadable copy of the cyber chip. However when you click on the link it doesn't take you to a downloadable copy of the chip.

Discontinued in - see International Spirit Award The International Activity Award is awarded to registered Youth and Adult Leaders involved in heightening awareness and cultural exchange with Scouts from other countries. The patch is worn centered on the right pocket since it is a temporary emblem. The specific requirements for earning this recognition are up to individual councils to define. BSA National has published some Suggested Criteria but you should check with your council for exact requirements. The International Spirit Award is awarded to registered Youth and Adult Leaders that have broadened knowledge of international Scouting and increased appreciation and awareness of different cultures and countries. Help organize or participate in two Jamboree-on-the-Air or Jamboree-on-the-Internet events. Complete four of the 10 Experience Requirements below. Experience Requirements Host an international Scout or unit and plan activities to help you learn about Scouting in their country. Learn about another country and prepare a dinner traditionally served there. Explain what you learned to friends or family over the meal. Participate in a World Scout Jamboree, international camporee, or another international Scouting event. Share the experience with your unit or at a district roundtable. Take a trip to another country as an individual or with your family or Scouting unit. Make sure to visit a Scouting event or unit in that country. When you return home, share your experience with another unit. Organize and participate in a Messengers of Peace project. Share the experience with your unit or at a district roundtable, making sure to explain which dimensions of the program your project promoted. Earn the interpreter strip. Research Scouting in another country. Make a presentation at a unit meeting or district roundtable. Research the process of obtaining a U. Create a fact sheet for your unit or district to assist them with requirements for traveling internationally. Research a region of the World Organization of the Scout Movement. While it is a national recognition, the James E. West Fellowship award is authorized and presented by the local council. A registered BSA member of any age can receive this award. Gold on green knot on tan background with red border. It replaces the Centennial Quality Awards program as a means of encouraging excellence in providing a quality program at all levels of the BSA. Starting in January , a new quality program called Journey to Excellence JTE or sometimes J2E has become the new national performance assessment, communication, and recognition program for units, as well as for councils and districts. Many additional details are available on the BSA page. The Journey to Excellence program provides: A framework for planning the year A method for evaluating a unit Guidance in areas where a unit might do better Specific guidelines and standards of what is considered good performance Early warning of potential problem areas Recognition for good Scouting Benchmarking to get ideas and tips from other good units See BSA Info page for award details, forms, and FAQ pages. The Merit Medal honors Scouts, Venturers and Scouters that have performed an act of meritorious service above and beyond what is normally expected of a youth or adult member of the Boy Scouts of America. This act should demonstrate exceptional character that reflects an uncommon degree of concern for the well-being of others. The action does not necessarily need to involve rescue or saving life, but must demonstrate some aspect of Scouting ideals or skills. You can read some stories of Real Scouts in Action for some examples. Gold on Blue knot on tan background with tan border. Submit a recommendation with this Nomination Form. Messengers of Peace is a global initiative aimed at encouraging youth to work toward peace. Taking advantage of social media, scouts from around the world share their efforts in order to inspire other scouts to undertake similar projects. Any Scout or Scouter who participates in a qualifying project can wear the Messengers of Peace ring patch. It is displayed around the World Crest above the left pocket of the uniform. Patches can be purchased by a unit representative at a local Scout Shop or council service center. A qualifying project has a significant impact on the community in one of these three dimensions of peace: This adds the project to the map on the Messengers of Peace website and generates a unit certificate which should be taken to the Scout Shop to purchase patches. The National Den Award recognizes dens that conduct a quality, year-round program. Service projects, field trips, character development, and Cub Scout camping are areas that are emphasized. Dens earn the award as a team, not as individual den members. The recognition is a ribbon for the den flag or den doodle. Complete six of the following during the year: Use the denner system within the den. Have 50 percent of the den go on three field trips per year. A field trip may be used in place of a den meeting. As a den, attend a Cub Scout day camp, Cub Scout or Webelos Scout resident camp, or a council family camping event with at least 50 percent of the den membership. Conduct three den projects or activities leading to a discussion of the Scout Law. Have 50 percent of the den earn at least three elective adventure loops or adventure pins. Have 50 percent of the den participate in a patriotic ceremony or parade. Have 50 percent of the den participate in at least one den service project. Once the requirements are completed as stated, the signed National Den Award application is sent to the local council service center where the ribbon can be obtained. Download an application for the National Den Award. A pack can qualify for the National Summertime Pack Award by planning and conducting three pack activities - one each in June, July, and August. This award can be an incentive for greater attendance at your summer pack activities. Individual scouts that participate in all three pack events can receive the National Summertime Pack Award pin. Starting in , there is a different color pin for each Cub Scout rank so earning the pin each year has more incentive. Qualifying packs receive a colorful streamer for their pack flag. Dens with an average attendance of at least half their members at the three summer pack events will be eligible for a colorful den participation ribbon. The purpose of the National Summertime Pack Award is to encourage packs to provide a year-round program by continuing to meet during the time periods when school is out of session for several weeks or months. A scout that earns the Summertime Pack Award pin should display it pinned on the right pocket flap. Multiple pins may be displayed from each year it is earned. If the scout has also earned the Outdoor Activity Award , it should be sewn on the right pocket flap and then the Summertime pin pinned through the patch. According to national BSA employees, since the goal of the Summertime award is to have Packs continue the program through the summer, the summertime award scouts receive should match their current rank rather than the rank they are working towards. There are three Pack competitions that are commonly held as annual events. Medals can be presented to all participants and blue, red, and white medals present to first, second, and third place. Pinewood Derby - gravity powered wooden cars racing down a standard track. Raingutter Regatta - scout breath-powered sailboats racing in a water-filled raingutter. Space Derby - rubber-band propellor powered rockets racing on a stretched string. These medals can be displayed pinned above the left pocket or on a red vest. Up to five medals can be displayed on the uniform shirt. Packs and Troops will often have their own competitions between dens or patrols, or individual scouts. Districts may have competitions at camporees or other scouting events. The BSA has official participation medals for use in any scouting activity. These medals can be displayed pinned above the left pocket or on a red vest or scout blanket. There are other styles of participation and placement ribbons available at your scout shop besides these medals. Encourage youth fitness in the BSA by providing positive role models and by enhancing youth awareness and understanding of fitness parameters, health risks, and personal circumstances. Encourage physical fitness among Scouters by enhancing their awareness and understanding of fitness parameters, health risks, and personal circumstances. Reduce the rate of stress- and fitness-related incidents throughout Scouting. The award application form is no longer available at its old scouting. The patch is still available on ScoutShop. People who earn the recognition can receive a special certificate and can purchase and wear the unique BSA Physical Fitness Award patch. In addition, upon completion of the Fitness Award requirements, Scouts and Scouters may wear a special recognition pin and patch that can be purchased through their local council.
