The mission of the San Francisco SPCA is to save and protect animals, provide care and treatment, advocate for their welfare and enhance the human-animal bond. As the fourth oldest humane society in the country and the founders of the No-Kill movement, the SF SPCA has been at the forefront of animal welfare for decades. Through education, rescue and prevention of overpopulation and surrenders, they constantly work to keep our communities and our pets safe. Since it was founded in , Family Dog Rescue has rescued over dogs and matched them with loving families. Rocket Dog Rescue The mission: Rocket Dog Rescue is dedicated to saving homeless and abandoned dogs from overcrowded animal shelters. This volunteer-based nonprofit runs on the belief that no dog should be left behind. Founded in , they organize educational and adoption events, host mobile adoptions and in , they opened their first Urban Sanctuary and adoption center in Oakland. To date, they have adopted more than 8, dogs to loving families. How you can help: Donate , volunteer , foster and adopt. Based in San Francisco, this child advocacy organization advocates for helpful laws, policies and practices, collaborates with government agencies, community organizations and the private sector, educates on child safety and security, and supports families with children in the Bay Area. The mission of the San Francisco Parks Alliance is to inspire and promote civic engagement and philanthropy to protect, sustain and enrich San Francisco parks, recreation and green open spaces. After noticing a decline in city park conditions and amenities the two leading organizations, Neighborhood Parks Council and San Francisco Parks Trust, joined forces in October to form the new San Francisco Parks Alliance. Now, they collaborate between residents and the city to improve parks and raise the visibility of parks and recreation as a vital public service. Greenbelt Alliance The mission: For over 60 years, Greenbelt Alliance has been serving as the only Bay Area organization that holistically addresses land-use issues like land conservation and smart growth development â€” from saving farms in Santa Clara County and wildlife habitats in Sonoma County to revitalizing commercial strips in Silicon Valley and Oakland. They work to prevent bad development, but also encourage the right development in the right places. Save the Bay The mission: To advocate and restore the Bay, Save the Bay works to stop bay fill and reckless shoreline development, restores the shoreline by engaging community volunteers, schools and businesses in planting and scientific monitoring, and prevents trash from polluting and harming wildlife by securing local and regional limits on plastic bags, polystyrene and toxic tobacco litter. Since , Save the Bay has become the largest regional organization working to protect, restore and celebrate San Francisco Bay. With the help of thousands of Bay Area residents, they work to protect and restore the Bay for future generations, both as advocates in their community and volunteers on the shoreline. Donate money , volunteer with your company , on your own or with the Fellowship Program and more. Education Valencia The mission: The Valencia mission is to support under-resourced students ages six to eighteen with their creative and expository writing skills and to help teachers inspire their students to write.
