Decorating with Flowers Summer Bliss: Decorating with Flowers Summer, commonly known as the swimming and vacation time, is also a season of flowers! These are the months were flowers bloom at their best because of the weather condition. Although not usually recognized, there are also places which celebrate festivities related to bountiful blooms of flowers, such as the Panagbenga Festival in Baguio City. Why not take advantage of this season and decorate your fabulous abodes with flowers? This will not only make your house fresh and green but it will also bring life to the vibes. It also creates a fabulous appeal to the visitors. In this article, I will be providing you with DIY tips on how you can make your fab home filled with flowers as decorative. Cans Decorating using flowers does not have to be expensive. In fact, you can make use of recycled materials just like used cans. Instead of throwing used cans, why not come up with a DIY flower vase? This will add up to the creative vibe of your decorations. Wine Bottles Gather all those wine bottles you have collected during the holidays. Some wine bottles are even colored and they are perfect to give more charm to your arrangement. Old Bird Cage This may not be the usual item to use, but believe me, this makes an amazing centerpiece or container for arranging flowers. May it be put in the center of the table or hanging on the aisle, this is surely a head-turner idea. Large Barrels Your garage or garden will be perfectly unique and at the same time beautiful if you use this barrels as planters. Like how many times do you see an old wooden barrel flourishing with bright color flowers? This is an idea that I highly recommend. Shutters This design is perfect for outdoor steps. Combined pieces of shitters from colored windows together and make them as a decorative display. The constellation that you will be able to create would bring a different vibe to your patio or garden. One of which is to cut them into pieces together with the leaves and put them in a jar to be displayed indoors. Or if you wish, you may also create an amazing framed pasted flower portrait out of it. Wagons Those old wagons that you have may be utilized into amazing DIY flower planters! As you put them in the center of your garden, a free corner or even near the doors, the flowers growing from these old wagons will surely be beautiful as ever. You may even be playful in coloring or repainting the old wagon to match your style and preference. Paint Cans The old cans that you used for repainting your walls may be used as flower containers! The spilled colors of paint at the body of the can brings an amazing perfect combination of whatever color of flowers you have. Plus, you may also put decorative to it by tying a ribbon around the can. Rain Boots Who says rain boots are just for rains and floods? Well, you may also come up with planters out of these colorful rain boots! Hang them in your garden with blooming flowers planted and enjoy the beautiful and fabulous view. Mason Jars And who said that mason jars are only good for storing food? They are also perfect to host that beautiful bloom from your garden. Teacups Those old and cutie teacups that you have may also be used as planters for small breed plants or flowers. This is perfect for those who are kind of minimalist because they can get the flower decoration without sacrificing their space since they just have to put it in a small area and voila! The flower in a teacup would surely bring life to your fab home! Picnic Basket Old picnic baskets are also ideal to be used as planters since they are easily being carried making it mobile for transferring. More than that, the use of this material brings a picnic vibe to your fabulous garden. The Outdoors Anything outside your fabulous home, may it be a garden, garage, or patio, with the use of outdoor materials, it will also turn into a fabulous space. Just be sure to resort first to recyclable materials before doing the shopping since there are a lot of things which you can use at home. Remember, nothing could go wrong with a flowered-decorated fabulous home! So start your decoration project now and have a flowery summer!

This year the club members decided to implement Plants for Patients as their goal to increase an awareness of caring for the environment as well as caring for others. During the fall months, they created floral arrangements for the Mt. Vernon House and Winchester Hospital. Vernon House staff were delighted to receive fall floral arrangement as the students recycled pumpkins as vases and used flowers grown from the greenhouse along with dried flowers and donations from Stop and Shop. Both are competing for the same package store license. More than 70 residents have signed a petition supporting Salute, the gift basket business, attorney Mark Vaughan told the Board of Selectmen in a brief update at their March 20 meeting, before public hearings for both applicants were continued to April. Salute would offer gift baskets with wines, cheeses and other packaged foods, including products from local businesses, Vaughan said. Clientele would mainly include local businesses such as realtors welcoming new residents to their homes, he said. Addezio was initially looking at Main St. We wish all the runners the best of luck in their races! In addition to flowers, Bloomex offers a variety of other gift items including plants, gift baskets, gourmet foods, sweets and treats, balloons and other items. The company serves Canada, the US, and Australia. They asked them to keep one, and petal the other one forward. A florist may offer you two free flower bunches, one to keep and one to gift. The event, sponsored by the Society of American Florists, calls attention to the variety of floral products grown in the U. Each florist chooses how to pass out the bundles. They can spread joy to residents in assisted living facilities, passersby and people stuck in traffic. This year, shop employees plan to hand out bouquets to people, owner Karen Gallo said. The free flowers are being given away in celebration of Petal it Forward, a floral industry event that spans all 50 states created by SAF Society of American Florists. Florists all over the country are excited about sharing the feel-good proposition of giving away free flowers in their communities and encouraging the recipients to "pay it forward" by giving away flowers. Every customer receives 2 free daisy bunches, one to keep, one to "Petal it Forward" to someone else just to brighten their day! Halloween and Thanksgiving give us a lot of material to work with in decorating, and the harvest and bounty themes are ubiquitous throughout the season. Change your color schemes with pillows and throws. Use fall-themed accessories in different ways, from fun to subtle to classic. There are hundreds of fall-friendly home accessories to put your farmhouse fall decorating ideas into play this year. We have ideas for the kitchen, hearth, front hall, bedrooms, and dining rooms that are sure to give you some inspiration. On top of the mantel, there are repurposed garden gates, windows, and shutters. The mantel is accented with fall leaves and wreaths. The hearth display has a farm fresh appeal with a crate and fresh pumpkins. Softly glowing candles stand in the fireplace. An understated wreath of dried wheat hangs on the kitchen window, and a pitcher full of late autumn flowers stands next to the sink. A cute white pumpkin on the scale completes the scene. A bird nestles in the branches for a cute touch. Next to the bucket, the homeowner has placed a chalkboard sign. It would be easy to change this display according to the seasons, using different filler for the vase and changing the message on the sign. An old ladder provides a nice place to put baskets of marigolds. A large sheaf of corn stalks stands behind the ladder. The display is completed with a variety of pumpkins, dried plants, and a candle lantern. This display will make your house stand out along your street. In an oversized glass vase are cotton bolls and pheasant feathers. The combination of textures makes this design special. Tall pillar candles on pedestals stand next to the vase. An assortment of pumpkins and silk flowers completes the look. White flowers accent the arrangement. A small side table holds a printed cushion, some old books, and a galvanized vase for more white flowers. This design is tailor made for the farmhouse style. It can be used at any time of year. The crocks come in a variety of sizes for a mismatched display. An assortment of pumpkins and squash nestles up against the crocks. The colors of the flowers and the pumpkins blend beautifully together. This would make a cheerful accent to any farmhouse front porch in the autumn. A combination of white and beige plus galvanized metal gives this arrangement a timeless charm. Wheat stalks and cotton bolls stand up behind the galvanized pail. Lettering on the pail makes this design special. Pretty white pumpkins complete this display. The rich combination of colors brings the feeling of autumn inside the home. The rustic quality of the box fits in with the farmhouse aesthetic. This would make a great centerpiece for a fall table. This display is done in coordinating shades of cream and green, with flowers and white pumpkins. A unique sugar bowl sits on the top shelf and a vintage gravy pitcher on the bottom. These metallic accents bring an extra dimension of farmhouse charm to this arrangement. The color scheme matches perfectly, and they have a charming, nostalgic quality. The soft texture makes them visually interesting. These cotton bolls are woven into a large door wreath. This wreath is understated and graceful, and welcomes guests to the farmhouse home. The inviting sectional is piled high with cushions. The fall touches in this room are subtle, from the oversized leaf wreath hanging by the windows to the tiny pumpkins in a basket. A tiered wire basket holds sheaves of dried grass, little white pumpkins, and vintage milk bottles. An oversized lettered sign with inspirational wording finishes this arrangement. This would make a great accent to any farmhouse kitchen. This porch has many decorative touches that welcome fall. The plaid throw on the porch swing provides a soft texture and appealing color. Baskets of pumpkins, dried corn, and chrysanthemums decorate the steps. A fabulous wreath hangs on the door behind the porch swing.
