

Chapter 1 : Going Deeper- Exploring the Depths of God | Colin Dye

This content is part of a series.. Exploring the Depths of God's Forgiveness (1 of 2) Series: Ocean - Exploring the Depths of God's Love Kerry Shook Matthew "This, then, is how you should pray: 'Our Father in heaven, hallowed be your name, your kingdom come, your will be done on earth as it is in heaven.

Everything feels so surreal. We feel every single emotion. We cry all the time. We laugh and celebrate. The memorial was amazingly beautiful. Jack gave a pre-recorded eulogy in honor of his favorite brother and we had hundreds of pictures scrolling through the ceremony, reminding us of the vibrant little boy that now was pain-free and enjoying the benefits of heaven and his Heavenly Father. Pastor Jerry said a few words and then we sang "Jesus Loves Me. When I sing to my kids at night, I always end with that song. Jack looked up at me with those big eyes and asked if I was okay. Took his left arm and pushed it behind my back and rested his head on my arm. He was trying to comfort me. He had never done anything like that before. I was deeply touched. The pastor said we could take as long as we needed. We stayed to grieve a bit longer and then asked Jack if he was ready to go. Just another minute," he said. That took us by surprise, too. We gladly obliged and sat back down. And then he asked, "When are we going to put the flowers in his grave? Like we did for Grandma Sauer? Of course we could do that. And all of our hearts felt full. Jack took a handful of roses to take home. We stopped at home before leaving again for the luncheon to gather a few things. I suggested Jack take his flowers inside the house. I thought it would be beautiful to dry them and do something special with them later on. But Jack insisted on holding onto them. They were for his twin, after all. He jumped around the front yard as we tried to herd him and his sister away from the mud. Then he took each of the roses and stuck them into the ground. He said he wanted to plant them. So they would continue to grow even after Ben is gone. This was, by far, a much more meaningful purpose for them. Because Jack was the one that wanted to do it. Our family in our front yard, next to the white roses Jack and Meg "planted" for Ben. It had been a whirlwind of a couple days. We look forward to those quiet moments in order to see how Jack is processing everything. We talked about how weird his body looked inside the casket. The makeup, the way they combed his hair. Sometimes crying feels good. He was a really important part of our family. No more medicine, no more headaches. Knowing that makes me feel really good. This was definitely one of those times. Jack started down the stairs behind his dad for movie night and I turned back to the bathroom to turn off the light and pick up the wet towels. He was waiting for me. I just shook my head, dropped the wet towels that were in my hands, and started walking with him. He skipped down the hallway and happily chose a movie with his sister. Ben was the one to wait for me. What a beautiful gift God had given me last night. Even in the heart of his independent brother. Jack slept in his own bed last night. For the first time in a couple weeks. He did eventually join us in our bed in the middle of the night. But Andy and I were very surprised at his willingness to make such a big transition back to his own room after such a short amount of time. He is asleep in his own bed tonight, too.

Chapter 2 : Exploring the Depths of God's Love by Charles F. Stanley

Through Exploring the Depths of God's Love, a part of Dr. Stanley's Life Principles Study Series, the Scriptures are stripped down to the very basic, practical guidelines He gave us. You'll learn what it really means to love God and to serve and obey Him and as a result, you'll discover how much God loves you, and how His love will.

We should take care to evaluate earnestly and without deceiving ourselves in regards to the need to grow our faith even after accepting Jesus as Lord. Just believing that Jesus was historically real, and was God come to dwell among us is not a saving faith. Even having fear of God does not mean you have saving faith. Even Satan and his demons believe these things. You do well; the demons also believe, and shudder. We must truly in our hearts believe that Jesus Christ is God and submit to Him as Lord over our life. We turn from our old ways and seek to live according to His ways. This requires more than claiming to submit to Him with our words or doing good works in His name. Our decisions in life are to be based on His will and His ways rather than our desires. If nothing in your life changes after you claim to submit to Jesus as Lord, it should be a red flag to you that you should pray and search more deeply to test if you really have committed to Him wholeheartedly or are just claiming the name. Do not grow complacent. How long shall I put up with you? Bring him here to Me. A good demonstration of this impact is perhaps to consider Peter before Pentecost and after Pentecost. And the Lord was adding to their number day by day those who were being saved. We all need help from the Father. That is why He sends the Holy Spirit as our Helper. Ask Him to show you where you are not being faithful and fully submitted. Connect with someone you trust who can also help hold you accountable as to your actions and attitudes lining up with the instructions of our Lord. Stay connected to the Lord in prayer and submitted to Him in all aspects of your life. Are you living today filled with the peace and joy of truly knowing and following Jesus Christ? Learn more about salvation through The Message of the Cross. Grace and peace of Jesus Christ be with you.

Chapter 3 : Adventures in Grace - Exploring the Depths of God's Unconditional Love

God is like the ocean - only there is no measuring his depths. Life in the Spirit is an invitation to get to know God and to explore him forever, understanding that there is no end to the adventure of discovering ever more wonderful and thrilling aspects of his being and nature.

Chapter 4 : Exploring the Depth of Our Faith | Hearing From Jesus

Through Exploring the Depths of God's Love, a part of Dr. Stanley's Life Principles Study Series, the Scriptures are stripped down to the very basic, practical.

Chapter 5 : exploring the depths of god s love | Download eBook PDF/EPUB

The God Anthology: Exploring The Depths of God - Video Sessions are 6 individual and downloadable video sessions from the Bible study by Mark Batterson. God Anthology guides groups on an exploration into six of the critical aspects of God's character and personhood.

Chapter 6 : PSALM 23 | THANKFUL 4 His Care on Vimeo

THE GOD ANTHOLOGY: EXPLORING THE DEPTHS OF GOD SRNE mO OuTLINES God AntholoGy: sermon outlines 1 These sermon outlines were created to be used in conjunction.

Chapter 7 : THEOI GREEK MYTHOLOGY - Exploring Mythology in Classical Literature & Art

In Exploring the Depths of God's Love, find out how deeply the Lord cares for you and what that means for your life.

Chapter 8 : Celebrating the Life of Ben Sauer: Exploring the Depths of God's Grace

A very important teaching about the origin of the English word hell. Get through the first technical part keep listening to the end hang in there.

Chapter 9 : Exploring the Depths of God's Love - Logos Bible Software

This is a set of six copies of Exploring the Depths of God's Love. Find out how deeply the Lord cares for you and what that means for your life.