

Chapter 1 : Increase Wealth, Learn How to Increase Your Wealth

Affirmations to Increase Wealth and Success "The feeling of wealth produces wealth. Keep this in mind at all times. Your conscious and subconscious mind must agree.

In the first chapter about Wealth, the author starts by thoroughly describing the way a significant number of people have acquired a Poverty mentality instead of the Wealth mentality. We can change this mentality by understanding our Right to Wealth, many Ways to become Wealthy and How Wealth comes to us. Through understanding of the Principles of Wealth, How to use your Will, equipping yourself with the right attitude such as: Chapter one concludes that to Increase your Wealth and Success, you need good people skills. The second chapter, which is titled: Avoiding Fights, explains why conflicts and fighting occur, and teach how to avoid unnecessary friction and succeed in spite of the normal conflicts of life. The third chapter that follows, teach a technique of yielding, which is also a key element of Tai Chi and most other advanced martial art. In contrary to popular belief, that we should never be Yielding, sometimes it is necessary to relinquish some small item in order to win the greater victory. The fourth chapter is about Listening to people and your opponent, so you understand what he really wants, what is his motivations, strengths, weaknesses, and anything else that could affect the conflict. The following chapter about Redirect, starting with an interesting example of how electrical engineers instead of stopping the lightning, but rather redirecting its energy to the ground, which eventually channel out all harms. After using all the strategies to avoid fights, yielding when possible, improve your listening skills, and learn to redirect your opponent energy to your cause, the sixth and final chapter is about setting up a final Win-Win platform and strategies for all. Something that I personally like in the book is the many simple but insightful quotes accompanied all the chapters. About Wealth Wasting the wealth that comes to you shows a lack of gratitude. It takes courage to do what you want. Other people have a lot of plan for you. Keep away from people who try to belittle your ambitions. Small people always do that, but the really great make you feel that you, too, are great. Franklin Adams People become really quite remarkable when they start thinking that they can do things. When they believe in themselves they have the first secret of success. Norman Vincent Peale Gratitude makes sense of our past, brings peace for today, and creates vision for tomorrow. Melody Beati The seven deadly sins— food, clothing, firing, rent, taxes, respectability and children. George Bernard Shaw You can only get what is yours by giving the other person what is rightfully his. Enthusiasm is the mother of effort, and without it nothing great was ever achieved. Ralph Waldo Emerson The cause of failure is doing too many things inefficiently and not doing enough things efficiently. I will pay more for the ability to deal with people than any other ability under the sun. If he is unable to achieve results through people he is worthless as an executive. Paul Getty About Avoiding Fights If you would win a man to your cause, first convince him that you are his sincere friend. Abraham Lincoln Anger dwells only in the bosom of fools. Albert Einstein It would be nice to make sure, every time we feel anger coming on, that it is really warranted and no the product of our own fear. A word spoken in anger may mar an entire life. To ruin it is inferior policy. Unknown If you want to beat someone out in golf course, just get him mad. Dave Williams Warfare, no matter what weapons it employs is a means to an end, and if that end can be achieved by negotiated settlements of conditional surrender, there is no need for war. Harry S Truman A man of violence will die violently. Lao tzu Never, never, never believe any war will be smooth and easy, or that anyone who embarks on the strange voyage can measure the tides and hurricanes he will encounter. The statesman who yields to war fever must realize that, once the signal is given, he is no longer the master of policy but the slave of unforeseeable and uncontrollable events. Winston Churchill Battle should only be offered when there is no other fortune to be hoped for. From its nature the fate of a battle is always dubious. Ambrose Bierce No fight, no fault. Lao tzu War does not determine who is right- only who is left. Lou Holtz When we hate our enemies, we are giving them power over us: Our enemies would dance with joy if only they knew how they were worrying us, lacerating us, and getting even with us! Our hate is not hurting them at all, but our hate is turning our own days and nights into a hellish turmoil. About Yielding When a man is born he is tender and soft. At death he is hard and stiff. When plants are alive, they are soft and flexible. When they are dead, they are brittle and dry. Hardness and stiffness are the companions of death. Softness and gentleness are the companions of life. Therefore, when an army is too stiff, it will lose in battle. When a tree branch is hard it will break in a storm. The hard and strong position is weak. The gentle and yielding position is strong. Lao-tzu Never argue with a fool- people might not know the difference. Unknown Bow and be straight; they never fight so no one fights them. The ancient wise men say: Lao-tzu Always forgive your enemies, but never forget their names. Kennedy A person without a smiling face should not open a shop. To defeat the enemy without a struggle is the utmost of skill. Sun Tzu, The Art of War When dealing with people, remember you are dealing with creatures of logic, but with creatures of emotion. Dale Carnegie Courage is resistance to fear, mastery of fear- not absence of fear. Mark Twain Anyone can become angry-that is easy. But to be angry with the right person, to the right degree, at the right time, for the right purpose, and in the right way; that is not easy. Anger is the wind that blows out the light of reason. Benjamin Franklin Anger makes dull men witty, but keeps them poor. Queen Elizabeth I The wise ruler is cautious and the smart general is wary of rash action. Unknown The enemy advances, we retreatâ€¦ The enemy retreats, we pursue. Mao Tse-tung About Listening The will to win is not as nearly as important as the will to study and learn the skills necessary to win Chance favors the prepared mind. Louis Pasteur And like water that shapes itself in accordance with the ground, so an army shapes its victory to the situation of the enemy. Sun Tzu, The Art of War Even a fool, when he holds his peace, is counted wise; and he that shuts his lips is esteemed a man of understanding. Then you will fight a hundred battles and suffer no loss. Calvin Coolidge I have learned a great deal from listening carefully. Most people never listen. Ernest Hemingway If I am able to determine the disposition of my enemy and at the same time conceal myself, I will be able to concentrate my strength whereas he will divide his. Sun Tzu, The Art of War A successful man is one who can lay a firm foundation with the bricks others have thrown at him. If you see someone without a smile, give them one of yours. Unknown Courteous and general conversation is never a waste of time. The wise man understands the needs of others. Lao-tzu There are five matters which give rise to military campaigns: The struggle for honors, the struggle for money and power, the need for revenge, the need for new order in nation and famine. Wu Tzu, commentary on The Art of War I do not think that there is any other quality so essential to success of any kind as the quality of perseverance. It overcomes almost anything, even nature. Rocketfeller You can close more business in two months by becoming interested in other people than you can in two years by trying to get people interested in you. Dale Carnegie Nothing is gained by winning an argument and losing a customer. Unknown Steadiness is the essential trait in the character of a general. Wang Tsi, commentary on The Art of War About Redirecting Changing perspective can be very useful in creating an alternate solution to a conflict. All of us do well when things are going well, but the things that distinguishes is the ability to do well in times of great stress, urgency and pressure. Assertiveness is asking for what you want and standing up for your rights while still respecting others. If you have nothing to lose, you can try everything. Unknown If I have eight hours to chop down a tree, I would spend six sharpening my ax. Abraham Lincoln One of the most important principles of success is developing the habit of going the extra mile. Napoleon Hill You cannot shake hands with a clenched fist. Golda Meir In war there is no advantages in numbers alone. To rely on force alone is a mistake. Peter Drucker Great works are performed not by strength but by perseverance. Samuel Johnson A bend in the road is not the end of the roadâ€¦ unless you fail to turn. There is no small enemies. Ben Franklin Only a man who knows what it is like to be defeated can reach down to the bottom of his soul and come up with the extra ounce of power it takes to win when the match is even. Unknown If the rules are not in your favor, change the rules.

Chapter 2 : Spiritual Laws That Increase Wealth, Health, and Happiness | Exemplore

When you're looking to increase your life, happiness, wealth, know that success leaves clues. People who have been successful - building happiness, businesses, fulfillment or wealth aren't lucky; they're doing something different.

The word of God is the truth Your mind knows it whether you do or not. If you are hoping this is the year of change for you You may want to read my article on Jeremiah But his delight is in the law of the Lord; and in his law doth he meditate day and night. And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper. Delight thyself also in the Lord: Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in him; and he shall bring it to pass. But the meek shall inherit the earth; and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace. He is ever merciful, and lendeth; and his seed is blessed. Those that be planted in the house of the Lord shall flourish in the courts of our God. They shall bring forth fruit in old age; they shall be fat and flourishing. To shew that the Lord is upright: He will bless them that fear the Lord, both small and great. The Lord shall increase you more and more, you and your children. Different versions of the bible may be easier to understand but, no matter what version you use.. Prosperity scriptures still mean the same. Some have changed the wording just so it is easier for us to understand. Peace be within thy walls, and prosperity within thy palaces. The Lord is good to all: For after all these things do the Gentiles seek: But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. These things are good and profitable unto men. And if we know that he hear us, whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we desired of him. So shall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy presses shall burst out with new wine. My fruit is better than gold, yea, than fine gold; and my revenue than choice silver. I lead in the way of righteousness, in the midst of the paths of judgment; That I may cause those that love me to inherit substance; and I will fill their treasures. Yours, O Lord, is the kingdom; you are exalted as head over all. Wealth and honor come from you; you are the ruler of all things. In your hands are strength and power to exalt and give strength to all. He will also bless the fruit of thy womb, and the fruit of thy land, thy corn, and the wine, and thine oil, the increase thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep, in the land which he swore unto thy fathers to give thee. But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering. For he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed. For let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord. Owe no one anything except to love one another, for he who loves another has fulfilled the law. He who has a slack hand becomes poor, But the hand of the diligent makes rich. He who gathers in summer is a wise son; He who sleeps in harvest is a son who causes shame. Blessings are on the head of the righteous, But violence covers the mouth of the wicked. Wealth gained by dishonesty will be diminished, But he who gathers by labor will increase. Hope deferred makes the heart sick, But when the desire comes, it is a tree of life. He who despises the word will be destroyed, But he who fears the commandment will be rewarded. The LORD will guide you continually, And satisfy your soul in drought, And strengthen your bones; You shall be like a watered garden, And like a spring of water, whose waters do not fail. For he shall be like a tree planted by the waters, Which spreads out its roots by the river, And will not fear when heat comes; But its leaf will be green, And will not be anxious in the year of drought, Nor will cease from yielding fruit. This Book of the Law shall not depart from your mouth, but you shall meditate in it day and night, that you may observe to do according to all that is written in it. For then you will make your way prosperous, and then you will have good success. And all these blessings shall come upon you and overtake you, because you obey the voice of the LORD your God. Do not be deceived, God is not mocked; for whatever a man sows, that he will also reap. For he who sows to his flesh will of the flesh reap corruption, but he who sows to the Spirit will of the Spirit reap everlasting life. And let us not grow weary while doing good, for in due season we shall reap if we do not lose heart. Therefore, as we have opportunity, let us do good to all, especially to those who are of the household of faith. Your threshing shall last till the time of vintage, and the vintage shall last till the time of sowing; you shall eat your bread to the full, and dwell in your land safely. It is holy to the LORD. These are just a few of the prosperity scriptures. Take a look at the bible and let the spirit make the words come alive. You will find many more. He who sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and he who sows bountifully will also reap bountifully. So let each one give as he purposes in his heart, not grudgingly or of necessity; for God loves a cheerful giver. Then all peoples of the earth shall see that you are called by the name of the LORD, and they shall be afraid of you. The LORD will open to you His good treasure, the heavens, to give the rain to your land in its season, and to bless all the work of your hand. You shall lend to many nations, but you shall not borrow. And the LORD will make you the head and not the tail; you shall be above only, and not be beneath, if you heed the commandments of the LORD your God, which I command you today, and are careful to observe them. So you shall not turn aside from any of the words which I command you this day, to the right or the left, to go after other gods to serve them. And I will send grass in your fields for your livestock, that you may eat and be filled. Do you see what I mean? There are many prosperity scriptures to base your life on. Our life was meant to be good! This is just one way the Lord has given me to prosper. For more information just take a look.

The path to achieving greater wealth and success--regardless of your background, occupation, or aspirations--is a thoroughfare open to everyone, and this book is the gateway. Behavior-analysis expert Alan Fensin explains how changing your relationship with money can increase your income and offers tips for visualizing your goals to ensure that.

It may sound difficult to believe you can increase your income when we look at what is happening to so many around us. But if we begin to look for opportunities instead of problems, we may be surprised at what we can do to earn more money. This is especially true when we focus our attention on the possibilities instead of the problems. Who can argue that bringing more money into our lives would not be a good thing? Yet, while there are opportunities, and opportunities in abundance when we start looking for them, not many are finding them. The truth is, not many are doing anything to enable them to earn more money or even thinking about it. Some wish they could make more money but do not know how to do it. Most are held back by limiting thinking and the lack of an effective plan. You must begin by learning how to take control of your money or any new money you get will just disappear into thin air. To earn more money is not the total key to financial success. But as you begin to lay out your personal plan of action for financial success you will definitely want to include a specific plan for increasing your income. Are you taking action now to achieve greater income tomorrow? If not, why not? But they always expect to do better later and plan actively to do so right away. After you study your options, sit down and write out your plans to make more money. Then start working consistently on it and never stop! Very often this includes college or other training programs to develop skills and qualify them to earn more money. Others take steps to get into a company that trains and promotes from within. Nothing happens without a plan and positive action. The articles in this series will outline the basics. By letting the information here guide your thinking you will soon find more and more money coming into your life. Take time to study each of these articles:

Chapter 6 : Small Sadhanas to increase wealth and Prosperity-Laxmi Tantra!

Wealth and material success is inordinately linked to a conspiracy mentality, with a belief that a small group of elites is actually pulling strings and deciding the.

Our belief in secrets and its natural cousins, conspiracies and superstitions, often appears when we are under stress, dealing with matters seemingly outside our control. According to Science Magazine, humans in those situations have increased illusory pattern perception, creating nonexistent causal links and correlations in an unconscious effort to rationalize the outcome and affirm ourselves. Wealth and material success is inordinately linked to a conspiracy mentality, with a belief that a small group of elites is actually pulling strings and deciding the course of history. Wealthy individuals, often to their chagrin, are besieged by requests to reveal their secrets so that others might follow in their footsteps and become one of the chosen few. Americans Who Have Achieved Financial Success America is a particularly fertile field for the study of investment success, considering the numbers of individuals who began with little, yet went on to build great fortunes. John Hancock, whose signature is widely recognized on the Declaration of Independence, was the son of a minister whose first job was in the trading firm of his uncle. Rockefeller was the son of a mostly absent traveling salesman with a reputation for shady schemes. In the last half-century, the names of Ross Perot, Sam Walton, Bill Gates, and Warren Buffett have appeared at the top of the lists of wealthiest Americans, all of whom have been the subject of biographies chronicling their rise to the pinnacle of riches. A reading of those life histories provides no evidence of membership in secret societies, no teachers or advisers who may have passed along confidential knowledge about savings or investments, no super-human skills, and no extraordinary abilities or qualities beyond intelligence and a strong work ethic. Secrets of the Super Rich If there are no secrets to wealth-building, what do successful wealth-builders have in common? What personal attributes are equally valuable in industries as diverse as retailing, software development, and investing? Are these identifiable common traits, in fact, the secrets to their success? Here are several traits shared by all wealthy people: In real life, people actually have to leave the coffee shop and go to jobs. While it is possible to win the lottery or inherit the estate of a long-lost, forgotten relative, it is extremely unlikely. The consequences of inaction is continuation of the status quo. Wealth builders take action to change their circumstances by expanding their capabilities, gaining new experience, and pursuing new challenges. Discipline Spending and saving habits are developed early and persist throughout life. Developing the discipline to control your spending and consistently save is critical if you want to achieve financial independence one day. Hunt, a Texas oilman reputed to be the wealthiest man in the world in the late s, continued to drive himself in a six-year Plymouth to work, and carried his lunch in a brown paper bag until the day he died. If you seek investment success, you should maintain a living standard that trails the growth in your income – for example, deferring the purchase of a new car for five years, rather than every three years – and investing the savings. The daily choices we make determine whether we have excess capital to save and invest. Most Americans choose to consume, rather than save, unable to distinguish between needs and wants. Wealth builders postpone consumption in order to maximize their funds available for investment, foregoing luxuries today to build a strong foundation for the future. Knowledge According to psychologist John Johnson, the game of poker is an excellent metaphor for human life. In both life and poker, we must deal with a number of factors we neither choose nor control. How we deal with those factors depends upon our knowledge of the rules of the game and past experiences, our own and those of others. Investing requires a series of choices in an ever-changing milieu of consequences. Each choice has an element of risk that all or a portion of the investment will be lost, will return less than expected, or will return less than other investments that might have otherwise been chosen. Persistence The path of investment success is rarely smooth, but a series of peaks and valleys, the height and depths of which are unknown during the journey. It is likely to be a cycle of exhilarating highs and devastating lows, testing the patience and determination of even those most determined to fulfill their ambitions. There are no sure things in the world of investing, and this volatility causes many to lose focus, discouraged by setbacks and failure. They give up at the last minute of the game one foot from a winning touchdown. These investors examine the disasters and learn from the experience, recognizing that they are better prepared for the next obstacle. Regardless of your age or income, you can take the first step toward financial security by spending less and investing the savings. And continue to do the same week after week, month after month, year after year. What has been your experience in investing?
