ASB Showgrounds' Logan Campbell Centre has played host to a number of world class acts such as Coldplay, and INXS, as well as stage shows. Its close proximity to the CBD and the airport, its 3, max capacity and the 2, onsite parking spaces make it Auckland's.

Independent Campbell entered the 2nd New Zealand Parliament , representing the electorates of the City of Auckland & resigned. He was elected unopposed on 4 August in the Suburbs of Auckland electorate, [7] replacing Joseph Hargreaves. He was a minister without portfolio in the government of Edward Stafford between June and November This section does not cite any sources. While travelling abroad, he married Emma Wilson on 25 February Apart from an interlude during and , when he was obliged to go to Auckland to reinvigorate the firm & now called Brown Campbell and Company & and to install a resident partner, the Campbells lived in various parts of Europe until On his return early in , Campbell took over full control. When depression overwhelmed Auckland in and the Stock Market collapsed in , there began a desperate struggle for financial survival. Campbell sold several businesses and properties, concentrating his energies on Brown Campbell and Company, a brewery and liquor importer. Campbell retained his properties at One Tree Hill partly because he wanted to create a suitable residence for his family. He set about planting trees to create a suitable landscape garden. His wife, however, had other ideas and the house, Killbryde, was eventually built in Parnell , a location much more handy to town. The house was demolished in In his later years, Campbell was concerned about the increasing suburban development of Auckland and decided to donate his remaining farmland at One Tree Hill to the city as a public amenity to be called Corinth Park - named after a part of Greece which Campbell had admired on his travels. His planting of groves of olive trees may have been connected to this. Rather than incur an election at short notice, it was decided to honour Campbell with the position. He was elected by the councillors, not the electorate. He resigned from the mayoralty the month after the royal visit. Later life[edit] Campbell was made a knight bachelor on 14 August , [9] after the honour had been announced in the Coronation Honours list published on 26 June He had always intended that the summit would be the location of a monument to the Maori people and left instructions and funds for its erection in his will and Trust Deeds. The Trustees felt that development of the park as a public facility took immediate priority and so construction of the obelisk did not commence until the late s. This meant the official dedication was delayed as the Maori elders did not wish to formally dedicate it during a time of war. His grave is located in the middle of the flat platform which serves as the forecourt to the monument.
