Chapter 1 : Mary Summer Rain's: Spirit Song : Phoenix Rising : Dreamwalker : Phantoms Afoot by Mary S

Mary Summer Rain's books, which are accounts of her training by No-Eyes (a blind Chippewa visionary), are captivating! Mary was trained by No-Eyes in the early 's, and No-Eyes went into great detail of the changes she envisioned happening to Earth in the very near future!

I was appalled by the audio. Nancy Fish is a poor choice for a book based on native Americans. Her portrayal of No-Eyes sounded like an old New York Taxi driver, rather than an old medicine woman. It made this book VERY difficult to listen to. I really wish this would be re-recorded with a more dynamic reader. It sounds like someone reading to a 2 year old. Very breathy, whiny and overdramatic. My big problem was the narration. I found the listening difficult with her character voices sounding like people with speech problems not culture differences. I will however read it again and again. How could the performance have been better? The narration was very disappointing. The voice was like listening to Joan Rivers Was this a book you wanted to listen to all in one sitting? Yes, barring the narrator. Mary Summer Rain is an amazing woman and writer. And I apologize to her for disliking her choice? It could have been so much more enjoyable. But I was disappointed by the narration. Could have gotten someone who sounded less like Joan Rivers. It would have been more enjoyable.
