

Chapter 1 : Chiricahua National Monument (U.S. National Park Service)

Despite an otherwise robust national economy, the analysis shows that a striking number of Trump counties are losing jobs. The AP found that percent of Trump counties have shed jobs in the past year, compared with just percent of Clinton counties.

This beautiful woodland area lies in a protective rampart of granite domes and sheer cliffs which were once the refuge of the great Apache Chief, Cochise, and his people. Once inside the Forest, Ironwood Rd. While the road can appear rough, people in passenger cars frequently traverse the road. There are five, usually dry, stream crossings on Forest Rt. Unless there has been unusually heavy rains within the last 48 hours, most cars can pass without trouble even when the streams are flowing. Ford at your own risk, however. History This rugged natural fortress was, for some 15 years, the home and base of operations for the famed Chiricahua Apache Chief, Cochise. Cochise and about 1, of his followers, of whom some were warriors, located here. Born in present-day Arizona, Cochise led the Chiricahua band of the Apache tribe during a period of violent social upheaval. In , the United States took control over the territory that today comprises Arizona and New Mexico. Not hostile to the whites at first, he kept peace with the Anglo-Americans until , when he became their implacable foe because of the blunder of a young U. In that year, Cochise and several of his relatives had gone to an encampment of soldiers in order to deny the accusation that they had abducted a child from a ranch. The boy was later proved to have been kidnapped by another band of Apaches. During the parley, Cochise and his followers were ordered held as hostages by Bascom, but Cochise managed to escape almost immediately by cutting a hole in a tent. Bascom later ordered the other Apache hostages hanged, and the embittered Cochise joined forces with Mangas Coloradas, his father-in-law, in a guerrilla struggle against the American army and settlers. The capture and murder of Mangas Coloradas in left Cochise as the Apache war chief. Army captured him in and prepared to transfer the Chiricahua to a reservation hundreds of miles away, but he escaped again and renewed the resistance campaign. Cochise is reputed to have been a master strategist and leader who was never conquered in battle. His son, Taza succeeded him as chief. Upon his death, he was secretly buried somewhere in or near his impregnable fortress. The exact location has never been revealed or determined. This trail is approximately 5 miles long one way. The Interpretive Trail leaves from the campground and consists of a short loop trail approximately 0. It is a beautiful, leisurely walk among the oaks and junipers. The Nature Trail, also starting from the campground, is self-guided, clearly marked, and is approximately 0. It forms a rough horseshoe shape and involves some up and downhill climbing. There are benches strategically placed, so you can sit and listen to the whispers of those from long ago and enjoy the superb views of the canyon. There is no dump station for RVs, nor is there any water available at the campground. There are no pull-through sites, you have to park on the standard forestry type apron. There are a total of 11 sites, 9 for tents or RVs and 2 group sites. Each site has a grill and picnic table The maximum length you may stay in the park is 14 days. The fees for staying are as follows. This is information is important whether your in our National Forests, Parks or just looking around an old ghost towns. Help preserve the land so that others may enjoy it also. Fire Danger There is a high danger of fire due to the dry conditions throughout the southwest. Please respect our forests and help maintain the beauty of them by following all campground rules on fire and make sure all fires are OUT. At certain times of the year fires of any kind are prohibited due to the high fire danger. Thank you for helping us maintain the beauty of our National Forests.

Chapter 2 : Nation Commander Stronghold - UniWiki

Imad Mohammed for The National At least one person was killed and 14 wounded when a bus carrying workers at a small oil refinery in northern Iraq was blown up by an improvised explosive device.

God wants His children to be delivered. In the 36 years Alice has been in deliverance ministry, not one person has stayed in bondage. We are body, soul, and spirit. When we are saved, the spirit is redeemed and saved instantly, but we have to work on renewing the body and soul daily, like it says in Romans. If a Christian is not actively trying to redeem their body and soul through the reading of the Bible and walking in the ways of God, it is possible for this Christian to be demonized, or possessed by demons, since the person is allowing them to have spiritual ground, which could also be defined as a stronghold. A person can allow strongholds in by thoughts or feelings. If a person has an inner pulling toward a sin and moves towards it, it can become a stronghold. For complete deliverance, the demons must be cast out and the strongman, or the demonic leader that heads these demons, must be cast out. There is a biblical order in which this must be done. The way to identify and cast out the strongman is in the Bible. Alice says that whenever one sees "the spirit of An example is in the passage Isaiah 61 where God promises to give the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness. Another example is from Romans 8, identifying the spirit of bondage to fear. Alice received her own deliverance through prayer and she says in the area of deliverance, God works different ways. It can be godly, respectful, and non-humiliating for the person. Alice is helping people help themselves by receiving the truth about what God says about deliverance and His total freedom. Unfortunately, when she was six years old she was sexually assaulted by someone whom she believes was one of the frequent household guests. This violation continued for about a year and was what Alice calls the "pillar moment" when her identity had changed " she had become a victim. At 17, after she ministered at a local church with a college student aspiring to be a pastor, he offered Alice a ride in his car and he tried to grope her. When she was 18, a boy she led to Christ in the high school choir was interested in Alice as a girlfriend. She rejected his advances. Later she found out that he was watching her room in the dark. He asked her to come out and talk. Alice told him to go home. She woke up her father who had a stern conversation with him. An important key she learned was: Once the door of victimization and trauma is open in your life, it remains open until you the victim slam it shut. No one else can do it but you. After this, you must establish the boundaries of how you will or will not allow others to treat you. One must take ownership and responsibility " acknowledge you have been victimized, and then you could talk about it and get truly healed. You have to refuse to let people abuse you again. The prevailing lie one may start to believe after being violated is "I deserved to be victimized. You must decide, "I will not be victimized. Sometimes as Christians, we have incorrect ideas of boundaries. People need to claim boundaries and set them. Recognize you have to toughen up. It takes a willful strategy, but you have to make the choices to change behavior. Alice also says we should know about holy and unholy strongholds. Holy strongholds would be those things that God has claim on in our lives. Alice says we can have a house of thought that we believed that have been contrary to the Word of God and God wants to be the stronghold. We will always be a victim and stay in a cycle of distress and self abuse unless we change our thinking and the way we live. She says victimization can be in two realms, the spiritual and the natural. Life altering experiences opened the door to trauma, the predator spirit was allowed, and opened the gates of the lies that keep us victims. Holy life experiences open up the blessings of God for us. Alice wrote the book because week after week of ministering to broken men and women at the altar she heard the same thing, people needed to be set free from thing in their pasts. She had a conviction to write the book, and it is different than other books because it has the steps to get out of unhealthy patterns. Alice found the answers and wanted to share them because people are desperate to get break through.

Chapter 3 : Stronghold | Definition of Stronghold by Merriam-Webster

Shivpal Singh Yadav has hinted that his outfit 'Samajwadi Secular Morcha' will be targeting the 'Yadav' belt in Central Uttar Pradesh region, a Samajwadi Party (SP) stronghold, in the next Lok.

Ostingeles before Romis as they are easier to hit and do more damage. Yulais before Antems as they are easier to hit and do more damage. Eysturs pose no specific threat. Once you run out of sniper targets, change to short range ammo and follow regular targets. Ideally the primary targets for strategic cruisers, Vindicators or the dronebunny as a last resort. In that case it could be safer to at least remove the Yulais before starting in on the Mara and the Intaki. Triggers The last enemy killed triggers the next wave, so there is no risk of accidentally triggering the next wave before you finish your current one. Special requirements This site requires you to have snipers in your fleet. Anchor In order to keep the fleet together, everyone within remote shield booster range and so forth. Appoint someone to be your anchor then have the rest of the fleet anchor up on him and use keep at range 2, m to make sure they always remain with the anchor except logistics who would orbit at 5, m instead to avoid bumping fleet members. That way only the anchor needs to know where to move and the rest of the fleet would follow suit. As for where to go, the Snake Shaped Asteroid is a good compromise for a fleet without propulsion modules. As such there is no need to focus on any other ships in the last wave, just kill the commander as quickly as possible and be done with it. It is identical to the Deltole Tegmentum in all but the name. The first wave spawns km from the beacon, behind the Snake Shaped Asteroid to the right. The second wave spawns 60 km from the beacon, between the L-shaped buildings and the Snake Shaped Asteroid. The third wave spawns km from the beacon, behind the Snake Shaped Asteroid to your left. The fourth wave spawns 20 km from the beacon, a little to the right. The fifth and final wave spawns 50 km from the beacon, to the right side of the L-shaped buildings. The different waves are slightly randomised. The same type of ships will spawn in each wave, but the number of each is randomised. So you will encounter the same type of ships in each site, but the number of ships per type in each individual wave will be slightly different. Moving is not strictly required in this site, but it helps a lot. See Anchor above for an example of how you can move into a more preferred position near the Snake Shaped Asteroid. Remember to keep an eye on your capacitor if you have prolonged attention from a bunch of Deltole Tegmentums. While their individual neuting is rather small, it adds up.

Chapter 4 : National Rally (France) - Wikipedia

A new geographical survey of supporters of the far-right party led by Marine Le Pen shows its electorate is located in two key regions in northern and south-eastern France, and that National Front.

We can defeat strongholds “ individual by individual, then by groups, cities, regions and nations. We must neither quail at the enormity of the task nor rush foolishly in where the Holy Spirit has not led. We must develop more discipline and corporateness than we have ever known. Self-disciplined behavior must replace our personal desires. God has given us the authority to do this in prayer. Remember that earth is the Lords and everything in it. There are essential keys to apply personally and corporately in order to see major strongholds broken. What are these keys in seeing the strongholds broken over cities and regions? There is much satanic counterattack when you war against corporate strongholds. You must first know how to deal with strongholds in your own life and in others. The satanic attack comes through your own personal strongholds. You must give the enemy no open doors. Here is a good definition by John Sandford: People develop in the mentality they share with others, and these form strongholds over nations. They are extremely powerful. We have been in many nations where these corporate strongholds rule. We have seen difficulties in the missionaries working there. These difficulties manifest in relational problems, depression, discouragement, hopelessness, and many other things. We can feel the heaviness of these spirits almost immediately entering a country. We must realize that principalities and powers are controlling these areas of the world, and that these corporate strongholds are much more powerful than personal strongholds. We read in Ephesians 6: They use all the demonic lies found in personal strongholds, but they have much more power. We can see the reality of this power whenever we see groups of people doing violent things that an individual would not do alone. For example, a youth gang will rape or kill a woman where an individual would not. World demonic rulers will kill and destroy homes because of ethnic hatred. Hitler and his men killed millions of Jews without any guilt. Corporate strongholds can destroy guilt. The stronghold of homosexuality has deceived multitudes of people into thinking that being gay is alright. He wants to imprison whole nations and people groups. The Holy Spirit wants to set people free. The more we are aware of how the enemy controls whole groups of peoples and even nations, the more we can be used by God to demolish principalities. It is the strength of God that will do it and not our own human ability. It is important to realize that we can never destroy these corporate strongholds alone. They are too powerful. When warring against a principality and the strongholds it employs, we are battling not only the principality but multitudes of demons as well “ hundreds or thousands of them. No individual believer, nor even an entire army, will be able to eradicate such a stronghold as drugs or homosexuality or ethnic hatred. These are too ancient, too powerful and too entrenched in the minds and hearts of many. Let the high praises of God be in their mouth, and two-edged sword in their hand, to execute vengeance on the nations and punishment on the peoples; to bind their kings with chains and their nobles with fetters of iron, to execute on them the judgment written; this is an honor for all His godly ones. Ask yourself several questions: Is God asking you to help break an individual stronghold or a group, region, or even a national stronghold? If it is more than an individual, who are you to do it with? What prayer groups have the same vision? Are you supposed to set individuals or groups free from homosexuality, drugs, alcohol, etc.? Is it your church or several prayers groups in your city? Is the group you are praying with united and mature spiritually? Are you sure that God is calling you? They all march in line, not swerving from their course. They do not jostle each other; each marches straight ahead. Make sure you have enough prayer warriors “ Breaking strongholds in cities, regions and nations require armies to match the size of the battle. Can you imagine an army one hundred thousand strong, or even hundreds of thousands strong, standing in determination to bring down the stronghold of homosexuality over our nations? Or abortion, or racial prejudice, or the rights movement that corrupts our court system, or opportunism in politics, or the sexual revolution? Make sure that there is persistent prayer and that you have good strong leadership. Watch carefully for strongholds in your own life that might surface. Deal with them quickly when they arise. Know your identity in Christ. Satan will often accuse you of the same problem and tap into your personal strongholds. Find out about the history of a person, group, or nation under the control of a stronghold. Wars are won by battle plans. It is essential to know your plan of action. Saturate the region with worship, praise and thanksgiving” Understand the power of worship and thanksgiving in defeating the enemy. When going to a nation, I often spend much time in worship and praise. I often bring praise music with me. I will worship God on the balcony, traveling by train, riding in the car or prayerwalking. I know that this is one of my greatest weapons of war and so I try to cultivate it whenever I can. Exercise discernment and persist in prayer” There needs to be a lot of spirit-led prayer and intercession throughout the whole process of breaking strongholds. The devil will try to maintain his hold over nations and cities. Listen to Him for guidance. Proceed carefully at His direction. Ask God to give your group a spirit of wisdom and revelation. Bathing the region in intercession through strategically praying the Word erodes the power of the enemy and defeats him. Remember that Jesus came against the enemy by quoting the Word of God. Have no unconfessed sin. Realize that the devil looks for an area in your life that he can attack. Maintain balance in your life in Sabbath, rest, fellowship and exercise. Fill your life with worship and praise. Glory in his holy name; let the hearts of those who seek the Lord rejoice. Someday it will happen. Scriptural prophecy will not be denied. How long will our Lord have to wait patiently while we dilly-dally in our own petty concerns.

Chapter 5 : Where are France's National Front voters? - France 24

^While using their propulsion module, they suffer the same signature bloom as players. ^ This is the speed of the ship while they try to get within orbit or as they try to chase after you, suffering the same signature bloom as players do with the propulsion module on.

Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth; for the Lord has spoken: They have forsaken the Lord, they have despised the Holy One of Israel, they are utterly estranged. Why will you still be struck down? Why will you continue to rebel? The whole head is sick, and the whole heart faint. Blessed is the one whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered. Blessed is the man against whom the Lord counts no iniquity, and in whose spirit there is no deceit. For when I kept silent, my bones wasted away through my groaning all day long. For day and night your hand was heavy upon me; my strength was dried up as by the heat of summer. Behold, I have given you authority to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy, and nothing shall hurt you. And Saul sought him every day, but God did not give him into his hand. And the trees of the field shall yield their fruit, and the earth shall yield its increase, and they shall be secure in their land. And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I break the bars of their yoke, and deliver them from the hand of those who enslaved them. They shall no more be a prey to the nations, nor shall the beasts of the land devour them. They shall dwell securely, and none shall make them afraid. This he set aside, nailing it to the cross. He disarmed the rulers and authorities and put them to open shame, by triumphing over them in him. The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the stronghold of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? Your adversary the devil prowls around like a roaring lion, seeking someone to devour. Put on the whole armor of God, that you may be able to stand against the schemes of the devil. For we do not wrestle against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the cosmic powers over this present darkness, against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly places. Therefore take up the whole armor of God, that you may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand firm. Stand therefore, having fastened on the belt of truth, and having put on the breastplate of righteousness, And on the wing of abominations shall come one who makes desolate, until the decreed end is poured out on the desolator. And the word was true, and it was a great conflict. And he understood the word and had understanding of the vision. In those days I, Daniel, was mourning for three weeks. I ate no delicacies, no meat or wine entered my mouth, nor did I anoint myself at all, for the full three weeks. On the twenty-fourth day of the first month, as I was standing on the bank of the great river that is, the Tigris I lifted up my eyes and looked, and behold, a man clothed in linen, with a belt of fine gold from Uphaz around his waist. O God, you are my God; earnestly I seek you; my soul thirsts for you; my flesh faints for you, as in a dry and weary land where there is no water. So I have looked upon you in the sanctuary, beholding your power and glory. Because your steadfast love is better than life, my lips will praise you. So I will bless you as long as I live; in your name I will lift up my hands. My soul will be satisfied as with fat and rich food, and my mouth will praise you with joyful lips,

Chapter 6 : Breaking Strongholds Over Cities & Nations | Intercessors Arise International

Welcome to StrongholdNation! Our site offers exclusive details on all Firefly games: Stronghold 1, Stronghold Crusader, Stronghold Legends, CivCity Rome, Stronghold 2, Stronghold Kingdoms, Stronghold 3, Crusader 2.

Yet the bulk of the hiring has occurred in bastions of Democratic voters rather than in the Republican counties that put Trump in the White House. On average for the year-ended this May, Despite an otherwise robust national economy, the analysis shows that a striking number of Trump counties are losing jobs. The AP found that The jobs data shows an economy that is as fractured as the political landscape ahead of the midterm elections. That would seem to undercut what Trump sees as a central accomplishment of his administration — job creation for middle class and blue-collar workers in towns far removed from bustling urban centers. Trump has pointed with pride at a strengthening national economy in hopes that voters will reward the Republican Party by preserving its majorities in the House and Senate this year. The government reported the fastest quarterly economic growth since and the unemployment rate is a healthy 3. Our jobs are booming. Chip Kohser, the county Republican chairman and the bristle-bearded founder of a farm share company, said his party members are rallying around their staunch opposition to gun control. Since May, Beaver County has lost jobs. With the warmer summer weather, hiring is now on an upswing. But employers have fewer job applicants available as the labor force has shrunk by roughly 1, workers in the past 12 months, the result of decades of population loss that hit former steel towns such as Aliquippa, Beaver Falls and Midland. The United States is full of places like Beaver County. They are areas where the currently robust national economy and job market obscure long-standing woes that generations of politicians have struggled to reverse. There are the long-shuttered factories, stagnant incomes and the departure of college-educated workers to cities and surrounding suburbs. Many of those forgotten men and women might cheer the president for slapping tariffs on imported goods to defend U. During the past year, the healthiest job gains have been in counties containing such vibrant cities as Houston, Dallas, Los Angeles, Las Vegas and Seattle, all of them places that have favored Democrats. Texas, which Trump won handily, reflects the geographic split in the economy. Though public opinion surveys suggest that the economy gives an advantage to Trump and the Republicans, the economy no longer packs as big a punch with the electorate. The proportion of people who said the economy was their top priority fell to its lowest level in more than eight years. Sixty percent of Americans told Pew that they see their midterm vote as an act of either supporting the president 26 percent or opposing him 34 percent. That is the highest combined number since Pew began asking such a question in And 68 percent said that control of Congress would influence how they vote, the highest level in two decades. Their work found that conservatives and liberals have become more sharply split on such issues as confidence in the government and social institutions, religious participation and stances on marriage, sex and abortion. In Pennsylvania, many Democrats see the choices made by Trump as putting democracy itself at risk. Yet the economic growth he promised would revitalize Beaver County may depend on its ability to attract immigrants as it did a century ago when the steel mills brought Germans, Italians and Eastern Europeans workers to the area. Beaver County never fully recovered from the steel mill closures in the s that caused the unemployment rate to spike at nearly 30 percent. The result of this population flight is that Beaver County is rapidly aging, with a median age of Local business groups see the possibility of a vibrant future because the county sits atop a massive reserve of natural gas. On the banks of the Ohio River, an army of cranes are building a chemical plant that helps to convert the natural gas into plastic — a source of hundreds of jobs. A local cafe struggled to hire bakers who could start the ovens at 3 a. The shopping mall manager found that higher pay did little to attract better job applicants. A congressman since, Rothfus bears the calm, bespectacled manner of a professor. Sitting outside a cafe before the chamber meeting, Rothfus said there was a clear path for generating job growth: This place was built on immigrants. A few weeks after the chamber meeting, he voted for a bill that, had it passed, would have imposed tougher border measures and likely curbed legal immigration. When asked if voters would make their choice this November based on the health of the economy, Rothfus said, emphatically, yes. His belief is that the tax cuts and pullback on regulations by Trump would help give him an edge. Do we want to have more government and higher taxes or more jobs and higher wages?

Chapter 7 : Madhya Pradesh Assembly Elections BJP vs BJP in several party strongholds - The Hindu

The Stronghold District, also known as the South Unit, of Badlands National Park is comprised of lands on the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation owned by the Oglala Sioux Tribe and managed by the National Park Service under an agreement with the Tribe.

Chapter 8 : Cochise Stronghold “ Coronado National Forest

BAGHDAD (AP) “ Police say two bombs have exploded in former strongholds of the Islamic State group in central Iraq killing one person and wounding at least

Chapter 9 : Bombs in former ISIS strongholds of Iraq kill 1, wound 18 - The National STRONGHOLDS> What exactly is a stronghold? A stronghold is an incorrect thinking pattern that has molded itself into our way of thinking. These strongholds have the capability to affect our feelings, how we respond to various situations in life, and they play a large role in our spiritual freedom.