Courage quotes will inspire you to do just that! Begin to think of yourself as courageous. Use the same strength to make courageous choices today. Pride is holding your head up when everyone around you has theirs bowed. Courage is what makes you do it. They can take place in your heart, when you have the courage to honor your character, your intellect, your inclinations, and yes, your soul by listening to its clean, clear voice of direction instead of following the muddled messages of a timid world. The most fundamental aggression to ourselves, the most fundamental harm we can do to ourselves, is to remain ignorant by not having the courage and the respect to look at ourselves honestly and gently. Sometimes, making the wrong choice is better than making no choice. You have the courage to go forward; that is rare. A person who stands at the fork, unable to pick, will never get anywhere. Bravery hides in amazing places. I am not a courageous person by nature. I have simply discovered that, at certain key moments in this life, you must find courage in yourself, in order to move forward and live. It is like a muscle and it must be exercised, first a little, and then more and more. All the really exciting things possible during the course of a lifetime require a little more courage than we currently have. A deep breath and a leap. And then I want to use my courage to feed the homeless. Courage to me is doing something daring, no matter how afraid, insecure, intimidated, alone, unworthy, incapable, ridiculed or whatever other paralyzing emotion you might feel. Courage is taking action. Grab one and begin now! My best work is my course, 30 Days of Bold: Feeling Excited And Ready. Courage is like love: A mode of conduct, a standard of courage, discipline, fortitude and integrity can do a great deal to make a woman beautiful. All this will not be finished in the first one hundred days. Nor will it be finished in the first one thousand days. But let us begin. Your self-worth and faith are measured by finally letting go. Even in the mud and scum of things, something always, always sings. The key to life is accepting challenges. Run my dear, from anything that may not strengthen your precious budding wings. I nodded, pretending to be a hundred times more courageous than I felt. But that was the thing about courage. Sometimes you had to fake it to feel it. Gather courage to believe that you can succeed and leave no stone unturned to make it a reality. Each mistake teaches you something new about yourself. There is no failure, remember, except in no longer trying. It is the courage to continue that counts. The potential of the average person is like a huge ocean unsailed, a new continent unexplored, a world of possibilities waiting to be released and channeled toward some great good. One of the greatest regrets in life is being what others would want you to be, rather than being yourself. It takes as much courage to have tried and failed as it does to have tried and succeeded. Whatever course you decide upon, there is always someone to tell you that you are wrong. There are always difficulties arising, which tempt you to believe that your critics are right. To map out a course of action and follow it to an end requires. Care no more for the opinion of others. Do the hardest thing on earth for you. The greatest test of courage on earth is to bear defeat without losing heart. How few there are who have courage enough to own their faults, or resolution enough to mend them. Healing takes courage, and we all have courage, even if we have to dig a little to find it. One of the greatest gifts my father gave me unintentionally was witnessing the courage with which he bore adversity. We had a bit of a roller coaster life with some really challenging financial periods. He was always unshaken, completely tranquil, the same ebullient, laughing, jovial man. She and a bunch of the girls in the ghetto had to do sewing each day. And if you were found with a book, it was an automatic death penalty. She had gotten hold of a copy of Gone With The Wind, and she would take three or four hours out of her sleeping time each night to read. And then, during the hour or so they were sewing the next day, she would tell them all the story. These girls were risking certain death for a story. And when she told me that story herself, it actually made what I do feel more important. Because giving people stories is not a luxury. There are no greater treasures than the highest human qualities such as compassion, courage and hope. Not even tragic accident or disaster can destroy such treasures of the heart. Hope lies in dreams, in imagination, and in the courage of those who dare to make dreams into reality. Success is that old ABC: True courage is like a kite; a contrary wind raises it higher. Love and peace of mind do protect us. They allow us to overcome the problems that life hands us. They teach us to surviveâ€¦ to live nowâ€¦ to have the courage to confront each day. It takes a lot of courage to show your dreams to someone else. Life rewarded courage, even when that first step was taken neck-deep in fear. Life is either a daring adventure or nothing. Security does not exist in nature, nor do the children of men as a whole experience it. Avoiding danger is no safer in the long run than exposure. Sooner or later, even the fastest runners have to stand and fight. To look at something as though we had never seen it before requires great courage. You cannot defeat me. One man with courage makes a majority. Because no matter what they say, you always have a choice. Come to the edge. I now see how gifts like courage, compassion, and connection only work when they are exercised. There are times of hardship when people forget the courage they need to keep fighting, and survive. But I think as long as we have something to believe in â€” to keep close in our hearts â€” courage will never truly leave us. We only have to reach deep in our heart to find it. Success means having the courage, the determination, and the will to become the person you believe you were meant to be. It took me realizing that a broken heart has never actually killed anyone to find the courage to ask for what I want, in just about every situation. That was part of my own growing up. I think we all have empathy. We may not have enough courage to display it. Because courage, as you might know, defines all other human behavior. Daring to set boundaries is about having the courage to love ourselves, even when we risk disappointing others. Believers, look up â€” take courage. The angels are nearer than you think. Take chances, make mistakes. Pain nourishes your courage. You have to fail in order to practice being brave. Courage and perseverance have a magical talisman, before which difficulties disappear and obstacles vanish into air. Have the courage to act instead of react. You gain strength, courage, and confidence by every experience in which you really stop to look fear in the face. I can take the next thing that comes along. Courage, sacrifice, determination, commitment, toughness, heart, talent, guts. We must become bigger than we have been:

I was hoping someone could help me with a problem I'm having translating my family motto I plan to have tattooed. In English it is, "For the brave and faithful, nothing is difficult".

It washes the slate clean. It sets all the highest values of love in motion. In a sense, forgiveness is Christianity at its highest level. George MacDonald It may be infinitely worse to refuse to forgive than to murder, because the latter may be an impulse of a moment of heat; whereas the former is a cold and deliberate choice of the heart. George MacDonald Forgiveness is the giving and so the receiving of life. Josh McDowell Forgiveness is the oil of relationships. Eye for eye and tooth for tooth. But I say this to you: On the contrary, if anyone hits you on the right cheek, offer him the other as well. As often as seven times? Jesus answered, "Not seven, I tell you, but seventy seven times. Therefore we should be glad that we can be forgiven by others. It is our forgiveness of one another that makes the love of Jesus manifest in our lives, for in forgiving one another we act towards one another as He has acted towards us. Hannah More Forgiveness is the economy of the heart Robert Muller To forgive is the highest, most beautiful form of love. In return, you will receive untold peace and happiness. Nothing worth doing is completed in our lifetime; Therefore, we are saved by hope. Nothing true or beautiful of good makes complete sense in any immediate context of history; Therefore, we are saved by faith. Nothing we do, however virtuous, can be accomplished alone; Therefore we are saved by love. No virtuous act is quite as virtuous from the standpoint of our friend or foe as from our own; Therefore we are saved by the final form of love, which is forgiveness. It is freeing to become aware that we do not have to be victims of our past and can learn new ways of responding. But there is a step beyond this recognition It is the step of forgiveness. Forgiveness is love practiced among people who love poorly. It sets us free without wanting anything in return. Carolyn Osiek It is not "forgive and forget" as if nothing wrong had ever happened, but "forgive and go forward," building on the mistakes of the past and the energy generated by reconciliation to create a new future.
