

Chapter 1 : What Are Biblical Principles of Government? - Dr. Paul J. Dean Christian Blog

Excerpt from Principles and Ideals for the Sunday School: Essay in Religious Pedagogy We venture to hope, however, that what we have written will be of value for teachers of those classes whose pupils constitute what is perhaps the greatest problem of the Sunday school, the boys and girls of grammar-school and high school age.

In His Parable of the Good Samaritan, Jesus made the point that we should extend our Christian love to all people of the world, regardless of race, religion, nationality or any other artificial distinction. We must practice that Christian love even toward our enemies! Be Humble Humility or being humble is a quality of being courteously respectful of others. It is the opposite of aggressiveness, arrogance, boastfulness, and vanity. Acting with humility does not in any way deny our own self worth. Rather, it affirms the inherent worth of all persons. Humility is exactly what is needed to live in peace and harmony with all persons. It dissipates anger and heals old wounds. Humility distinguishes the wise leader from the arrogant power-seeker Proverbs Be Honest Honesty and integrity are held as very important values throughout the Bible, and any deception to gain an advantage or harm another is prohibited by the Ten Commandments Exodus Deception may be by false statements, half-truths, innuendo, or failing to tell the whole truth. It is all too common in advertising, business dealings, politics and everyday life. We must strongly resist the temptation to engage in any form of theft, cheating, deception, innuendo, slander or gossip. Rationalization is a form of self-deception by which we convince ourselves that sinful actions are justified in order to achieve a good result, but this is really just another form of dishonesty Galatians 6: Holiness is in living by the commandments, not in achieving an end result Matthew 4: In Biblical teaching, the ends do not justify the means! Live a Moral Life Do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit, who is in you, whom you have received from God? You are not your own; you were bought at a price. Therefore honor God with your body. The apostle Paul gave similar lists. We often think of morality in terms of sexual sins, but according to Jesus, sins such as slander, greed, covetousness, deceit, and arrogance are equally immoral. Be Generous with Time and Money The Bible tells us to share generously with those in need, and good things will come to us in turn. Each of us has something to offer to someone in need. We can give our money and our time to charity, be a friend to someone who is sick or lonely, do volunteer work or choose a service-oriented occupation. We may give unselfishly of our time to our spouse, children or parents. At the same time, many of the Pharisees forgot the true spirit and intent of the law and became self-indulgent, self-righteous, snobbish, and greedy. That led Jesus to remarks such as, Woe to you, teachers of the law and Pharisees, you hypocrites! In the same way, on the outside you appear to people as righteous but on the inside you are full of hypocrisy and wickedness. Living a moral life means taking responsibility for controlling our own behavior. If we say or even think we are better than people we consider to be "sinners," we are guilty of the sin of self-righteousness. It is not our right to look down on, criticize, judge, condemn, or try to control other people. Judgment is to be left to God. Jesus said, Do not judge, so that you may not be judged. For with the judgment you make you will be judged, and the measure you give will be the measure you get. Jesus and other New Testament leaders supported the authority of civil governments Matthew If someone strikes you on the right cheek, turn to him the other also. And if someone wants to sue you and take your tunic, let him have your cloak as well. Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, that you may be sons of your Father in heaven. He causes his sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sends rain on the righteous and the unrighteous. A grudge destroys the grudge-holder with bitterness, and revenge only escalates hostilities. Jesus told us we must reconcile with our adversaries, forgive their transgressions, and let go of the anger that may tempt us to commit an act of revenge. Forgive Others If you forgive those who sin against you, your heavenly Father will forgive you. But if you refuse to forgive others, your Father will not forgive your sins. In the same way, we must be merciful and forgive other people who sin against us or do us harm.

Chapter 2 : Life Principles To Live By Every Day | Personal Excellence

We venture to hope, however, that what we have written will be of value for teachers of those classes whose pupils constitute what is perhaps the greatest problem of the Sunday school, the boys and girls of grammar-school and high school age. We wish to express to President W. R. Harper our sense of.

What adages do you use to guide you in your everyday living? These principles are meant to be read and reflected on over time, as opposed to being a checklist that you tick and check off. As you read each point, think about the truth behind this principle, how it applies to your life, and the actions you should take in light of this principle. Next, identify ways you can hone them. Then, commit to these steps with a deadline and act on them. This is a scarcity, fear-based mindset. How can you switch to an abundance mindset, which is a mindset that helps you focus on opportunities, love, and abundance, such that you can then create such an outcome for yourself? I now present to you the life principles, written by yours truly: We live in a world of abundance. There are unlimited wealth and unlimited opportunities for everyone. Every bit of anger you hold on to damages your soul. Whenever you feel angry, remember that the person you are hurting is yourself. Everything that annoys you mirrors something inside you. Rather than look outward for the solution, look inside to understand where that annoyance is coming from. Be happy that it happened instead. Inner beauty, on the other hand, stands the test of time. There is no one standard of beauty. Beauty comes in all shapes, all sizes, all forms, all colors. You are beautiful as you are. Stop trying to conform to the image of beauty constructed by the society and embrace the beauty that is you. It is better to be a first rate version of yourself than a second rate version of someone else. Your beliefs affect your life more than you think they do. If you want to have the best life experience you can ever have, switch out your disempowering beliefs with empowering ones. Half the things you say are usually more to do with your internal beliefs and issues than to do with other people. Whenever you point a finger at someone else, there are three fingers pointing back at you. In business, being the cog in the system also means you are the clog in the system. Million Dollar Tip 4: Scale Up Your Work Change: It takes time for your thoughts to ripple out and effect the reality because the physical world is denser than the spiritual one. Focus Change that lasts: Stop going for the easy way out. Learn how to create lasting change instead. You can only change yourself. There is no need to compare because everyone is different. Your goal is not to be like others but to be yourself. Stop comparing with others and focus on being yourself instead. The only competition you have is yourself. Something that is conditional can never stand the test of time. Or say, if a parent will only love his child if he aces his exams. These are relationships rooted in fear and not what you want to be a part of. Rather than reject it, celebrate it. How to Give Constructive Criticism: Receiving criticism means what you are doing is worthwhile enough for people to critique on. The more criticism you get, the better, because that means you are doing something of real value and worth. Cynics, Skeptics, and Pessimists: They are negative time bombs waiting to go off. You will only end up more bitter, damaged, and upset at the end of the exchange. How to Deal with Energy Vampires: With every death comes a new birth; with every birth comes an eventual death. Celebrate the fact that they lived. There is nothing to fear about death for it happens to everyone. Rather than fear death, focus on living your best life instead. Do You Dread Growing Older? Even if you do, you can never accomplish as much as compared to if you had the help of others. Involve others in your goals. Delegate, outsource, and hire where applicable. Ask for help when you need to. The moment you decide to face your problems is the moment you gain power over your life. Every great success is almost always preceded by a great failure. Your real self is not filled with fear. Discard it and you will be set free. No matter how much fear you have, your fear can be conquered with love. There is a time and place for everything. You can only do what you can and let the universe take care of the rest. A friendship is a bond between two like-minded souls. My Heartfelt Guide Frustration: Release the frustration in you and work on the issues instead. You create a more fulfilling life by giving attention to the good things, not the bad things; by celebrating the good stuff, not whining about the bad stuff; by working on things that you love, not doing the things that you hate. If you want to have a better future, create it. When you are generous to others, you subsequently receive more into your life. Are You

Emotionally Generous? Rather than think about what you can receive whether from people or from the universe, think about what you can give to others. Always challenge yourself to reach greater heights. There is always room to be better, regardless of who you are or what you have done. Be attached to the notion of growth, not an end state. Your habits make you who you are. Excellent habits give you an excellent life. Develop a Good Habit in 21 Days Happiness: It is not a goal to be achieved. Rather than focus on being happy for the sake of being happy, do what makes you happy instead. Sometimes, more haste leads to less speed. Being in a hurry can lead to more mistakes compared to if you were not. If you are really good at what you do, it will automatically show through your accomplishments. They are meant to inspire you and give you a direction to move toward so that you can maximize your present moment not to take you away from living in it. Accept that each and every person is unique. Stop imposing expectations on people. When in doubt, follow your intuition. It will guide you to where you need to be. Contrary to popular belief, intuition and logic are not at odds with each other – they go hand-in-hand. Hone your analytical mind through constant thinking. Cultivate your intuition by listening to your gut. They will be the biggest tools you have at your disposal. It only makes you an ugly one. Perhaps a little cliché, but laughter is one of the best medicines for the soul. Go do something that makes you loosen up and laugh out loud. Sometimes you have to let go of what you have now in order to move forward. There is probably something in you waiting to be uncovered. The only limit in life is yourself. To reach greater heights, identify your limits and remove them accordingly.

As you give the paper you explain that they are to tell no one what there animal is. When you are ready to split into teams no one is aloud say anything they can only make the noise of the animal on there paper. They find the people making like animal noises and that is there team. Through the event they can use the animal sounds to cheer there team on and as a team name. First decide how many groups you want to have, and have everyone form a line. Then tell everyone to remember their letter when they shout it out. If you want to end up with two groups, pick a two letter word, like "HI" , or a four letter word like "Love" and put two letters in each group. Have the first person yell "H". The second person yell "I". The third person Yell "H", and so on. If you use a four letter word like "love" to make two groups, use two of the letters to form each of the two groups. Try these dividing Words: Each letter of the word becomes a group. As you finish dividing into groups, have everyone yell the word that was used, like a cheer. No names, or male or female. All of the cards are collected and mixed. Everyone picks a card at random from the pile. The people then mingle and talk about what was written on the cards until you find the person for your card. During the mingling you will learn a lot about many of the other people. After everyone has found the person on their card, each person must introduce the person that is on their card and tell a little about them.
