

Chapter 1 : Sphynx Simple Pathfinder Character Sheet

Here is a dirt-simple, clean, basic layout, Pathfinder Roleplaying Game Compatible Character Sheet. It has a background-free version along with a brick-like background for more color.

The sheet was originally created by Sam M. Thank you Sam for all your time and effort spent on creating this sheet. The Pathfinder character sheet tries to best accommodate the Pathfinder rules as written RAW while macro fields to allow for house rule customization have been provided. Please feel free to lend your support through, feedback, testing, suggestions, coding, and keeping this guide updated and helpful. Please post questions, comments, suggestions, etc. Sheet Information The Pathfinder character sheet meets all requirements of the standard character sheet while adding features unique to Roll All attributes and sheet rolls are easily determined with a quick mouse-over. Chat menu buttons are included to handle all the most import rolls needed from chat without having to scour the sheet to locate a roll. Many areas of the sheet use repeatable sections for maximum flexibility. Most sections of the sheet make allowances for the multitude of rules options available for Pathfinder. Pathfinder Unchained, Mythic Adventures, and Ultimate Psionics, while limited in scope, are optionally supported. You may enter data in either section. Detailed explanation and instructions can be found using the guide below. The particular macro may have been customized. First try hitting the Recalc 1 button to see if that fixes the macro. Copy the macro to a text editor to save your customizations. After a few seconds the macro will be replaced with the latest default version. Finally, add your changes back to the macro. For attacks you may need to repeat this for the iterative macros. Why does the token ability I created linked to a menu not work? To create token abilities: Such as add an underscore before the name. If you use the same name, then technically there will be two abilities with the same name and it will not work correctly half the time. Where is the rest of the sheet? All I see is the sheet configuration page Use the Settings button located at the top of the sheet, between the logo and character name to toggle between the sheet and settings. Where did the macro-text, user-defined, extra damage, etc. More advanced areas of the sheet are hidden by default. You can also show other advanced fields such as "real-time" macro-text and user-defined fields from this area. Some sections also include a Show more fields option that can toggle the advanced fields locally. You may be in Compact Mode. There are two modes now: In Compact mode many fields are hidden to offer a simplified view. My hit points are too high, where are the extra hit points coming from? This should be fixed in version 1. Monster statblock import A: Drag and drop will not work if you are using Popped out character sheets. Check your games settings from the sidebar. The parse feature is near the top of the NPC page. After the statblock has been input, you can review values and make adjustments if needed normally only necessary if you experience any issues after attempting an import. Once you are satisfied with the values, use the "Parse" button to migrate the statblock to the Pathfinder sheet. Fields are either read-only or are completely missing. Why does it say my Dexterity is penalized? Check other conditions, some penalize or limit dexterity to AC. Next check the max dex of armor worn. Finally check the encumbrance on the Equip tab. Medium or heavier armor carries penalties besides Max Dex. Another place to check is carried currency, this adds to weight carried. To ignore encumbrance use the Encumbrance dropdown on the Settings page. Can I set sheet values from a macro? No, you must be a Pro member and use the API to set sheet or token values from macros. If a token bar is mapped to an attribute, setting the token will update the sheet, but it will not call any custom sheet code and update secondary fields. Go to the Pathfinder Page Status and Known Issue post first to see if your issue is already being worked on. I found a bug, have a question, suggestion, need help, etc. What should I do? Please include as much detail as possible to help isolate the bug to expedite a fix. There are many auto-calculated attributes found on the sheet and are depicted as number fields with a gray background. In these cases you can only adjust the fields that are used to calculate the gray background value. For instance, you can edit base strength, and any enhancement to it. The final strength score after enhancements and negative conditions and strength modifier are calculated for you. How will users of the Pathfinder sheet know when the sheet is updated? You can always check the bottom of the character sheet to see the latest build date and to check for announcements of upcoming changes. Updates to the sheet will be pushed automatically. The decimal portion of the result is just the initiative modifier included as a tiebreaker. How do I make a class ability, attack, feat, spell, inventory item, racial trait, trait macro using a sheet roll? Macro fields with an a superscript on the title that evaluate to numbers, such as for buffs, weapon damage bonus are almost like macros but not quite. Rolls are not allowed. A macro field has a red dashed outline, why? If a macro fields with an a superscript has a red dashed outline, that means the text entered cannot be parsed into a number, usually due to a syntax error. When the problem is corrected the red outline will disappear, and the grey background number next to it will populate with the correct value. This means the row has a bug internal to Roll20 and must be deleted. You must delete all rows with this outline before adding new rows back or you may experience indeterminate results. How do I setup an animal companion or cohort or regularly summoned creature? Create a new character in the campaign, and use a new sheet to record stats for your animal companion. You may find it easier to use the "NPC" tab which has a small subset of all fields. Make sure you have entered the appropriate data. Try clearing the problematic field s or using "0" to see if that fixes the issue. Finally, try using the Recalc Bold text 1 button at the top of the sheet to force a sheet-wide re-calculation. Please report any persistent issues to the Pathfinder thread. Make sure you have an ability selected in the dropdown for caster ability WIS 3. Make sure the spells have spell level filled in for each one. Keep "show only prepared" unchecked for now. How do I setup a Kineticist? On the Abilities page in the Kineticist section, choose the appropriate class from the dropdown. Choose the appropriate ability score for kinetic powers. Check Use Buff bonus types and stacking on Settings ChooseElemental Overload as a buff from the Common Buffs dropdown and add it to buffs, then check it to enable it. It will automatically add bonuses as your burn score increases. How do I setup a Kinetic Blast? Elemental Overload buff will apply to all attacks, and to ranged damage. Make any adjustments necessary. Click on Create Attack a row in the Attacks page will be entered. You can now change dropdowns or macros to create another attack. If you want to use Alt Melee and Alt Ranged, then you can instead add the macros to a new buff row that adds to Alt Melee attack and Alt Ranged attack. Damage bonuses would still need to be kept per attack row, because they will change depending on type of damage.

Just about 2 years later and with over 1, downloads, Penny Design's Simple Character Sheet designed to be compatible with The Pathfinder Roleplaying Games has been updated.

It includes everything from the character background to game statistics which a player would need to know. A character sheet simply allows the player to know the character they are playing better. A character sheet template allow the player to get their own personal sheets for playing character games. The character sheet template gives a format based on which a role play character can be developed. The template is available in a printer friendly and fillable version and helps in presenting a good collaboration and work. Character sheet templates are needed for creating the most precise and detailed character sheets. These are flexible templates that can be used for creating character sheets for any sort of game character. The templates are very well detailed and they cover almost everything right from the biography and history to the appearance and the name of the character. The templates feature editable fields that can easily be modified to suit the type of information being provided about a game character. The templates are specifically designed for flowing with the theme of the game and the style of the character. They do not make use of links or text colors. However, there are styled and colored versions available for the ones who are in the look out of something fancier in their character profile. In addition to this, character sheet templates are available in both lists and paragraphical formats to be used according to the preference of the users. Character sheet templates are needed for creating character sheets or documents, offering important and necessary information about a certain game character. These templates include almost everything from the background of the character in the game statistics that a player might need to work upon. Character sheet templates help the players in knowing the characters that they are actually playing in a better way. Character sheet templates also allow the players to get hold of their very own personal sheets for the purpose of playing different types of character games. These templates offer a perfect format depending on which the role play character can be precisely developed. It is not important to be an expert in this field, but proper CSS skills are needed for making these templates look good. It is also important to have some design skills for making the templates look good. However, if an individual lags behind in both these skills, there is nothing for him or her to worry about. This is because there are a large number of character sheet templates available online and they can always be of good help. It is always a very good idea to make the effective use of character sheet templates for developing game character sheets because these templates make the entire procedure less intimidating. I take off my metaphorical hat to you, the sheets are incredible. When you play a roleplaying game with friends, you each play a character. How are these different from the ones I already have? These sheets are different for every character. On top of the core pages each class gets a page of its own, as well as extra support pages for inventory, spells, animal companions etc. The result is a comprehensive set of sheets tailored to your character. You even get to pick a colour. How do I use this? Where a page has two A5 halves, you should be able to print the same page on both sides of A4 then cut it in half. Do I still need to buy the books? Both Paizo and Wizards of the Coast have created great stuff, and I wholeheartedly encourage you to go out and buy it. The same goes for any third party material you play with. Do I need a computer to play? No, these are made to be printed out and written on in pencil. Is there a version I can fill in with a computer then print out? No, because doing that for the entire set of hundreds of pages and making sure all the calculations are correct would be too much work. Other people are free to take a copy of my sheets and add features like that, and several have made a start on it. Have a look around various forums to find them. Are these available in other languages? What do they cost? These character sheets are free, and will always remain so. That means anybody can change them to suit their needs. Head over to the Open Source tab for more information. Can I donate something anyway? You can send me a little something if you like: I rarely say no to a pint of real ale. Will you do a sheet for my favourite class? Quite possibly, but my time is limited. Will you do sheets for alternate rules? You made a mistake! This project has been much improved by the suggestions of hundreds of people. Leave me a message with this button:
