

Chapter 1 : [sE:] Spirit of the East

When I first came to this alliance, we were a medium sized alliance on the ever popular Game of War under the leadership of the legendary Emesis7.

Usually, my pages are designed for less than full screen too. The "times" of Wabun are the times of new beginnings: The first three Moons are under the direct influence of the East. But you also need to realize that all the Spirit Keepers are there for you, each with their special gifts and lessons, each with their own time, in a day, in a year, in our lives. The Stone for Wabun is placed in the Outer Circle marked out for the Medicine Wheel -- exactly in the cardinal direction East; or as near as you can reckon it. On March 21st of each year Father Sun is directly East. This is the date of the Spring Equinox, meaning that Father Sun is halfway between his southernmost point of apparent travel and his northernmost point: This is also when Father Sun is exactly as much as anything is: Eagle soars high, higher than any other physical being. And yet from this lofty height He can see the mouse far below. At the same time He sees the whole picture. The first gift of Wabun which Golden Eagle can help you realize is Clarity. Ask Wabun to help you soar high, close to Creator, and gain Wisdom. Higher yet, till you gain the Light of Illumination. Golden Eagle has information about this Eagle; also links to other Eagle pages. Tobacco is one of the main plants used in ceremony. The chosen task of Tobacco is to carry communications to Creator. Working with Spirit of Tobacco brings clarity and transforms negativity. It is also good used as an offering in return for gifts from the Earth Mother, like sources of food, shelter materials, or a Stone or a Feather or other item that is gifted you. Tobacco is usually the Gift given to a Spiritual Leader or Healer when asking for prayers, a healing, teaching, or counseling. It is also used in smudge mixtures, to honor Spirit Keeper of the East, to transform negativity, and to carry prayers to the Spirit world. When not used in a sacred manner Tobacco is a poison, as most of us know. True Catlinite is smooth to touch and carves easily, "even with a regular pen-knife". It was and is taken carefully and prayerfully from Mother Earth. The art-craft of quarrying this Sacred Pipestone was almost lost during the past many years of cultural suppression. But a few families continued to pass down the knowledge and some descendants are still working the Sacred Quarries today. The links to Quarry and Pipe information, and other interesting information, are on the right hand menu. Carry Pipestone, sit in meditation with it, or even put a piece under your pillow, to help you with communication with Spirit. Both Ceremonial and personal pipes are also carved from Serpentine, Soapstone often the darker varieties and Alabaster. I have noticed that Red is common in the West, and Yellow or Gold are more common in the East part of the country. Sun Bear uses Red and Gold for the East direction. Yellow, the Color that I use, is used by most groups in my area. I purchased a X pixel size from www. Tom Brakefield, Image ID: BF This last link connects to Corbis search. The description of the positions and totems and their meanings given on these pages is meant only as an introduction, and not a complete explanation. Meditate and study further for a more complete understanding.

Calling in the Directions Calling in the Directions The following are suggestions to get you started with Calling in the Directions. Choose the words that resonate with you and are related to the spiritual work that you are doing. Group as many together as you wish. Make them your own. Study the aspects and qualities of the different Archetypes and Deities, along with the qualities of animals to assist you with your energy work. When you Call in or Invoke the Directions stand or sit with open palms and facing the direction being called upon. Here are some suggested openings: We call upon the winged ones, the Great Eagle and the Hawk, the Condor and the Vulture; teach us to fly wing to wing with Great Spirit. We call upon the wisdom of the Great Owl. Teach us to see through illusion. Conclude your directional invocation with: Spirit Keepers "Energies of the East join us; assist us this day. And So It Is! We are Grateful for the Blessings and assistance. Hail energies of the East. Use your creativity and intuition. I call upon the Guardians of Fire. Hail Spirit Keepers of the South. I call forth St Germaine and the violet flame to assist us in change. I call the Lion, the Puma and Sekhmet, who fiercely protects those whom she loves. I call forth the Great Serpent; teach us to shed the past as easily as you shed your skin. Spirit Keepers "Energies of the South join us; assist us this day. We are Grateful for the Blessings and assistance we receive from your life-giving energies. Candle, cauldron fire salt and alcohol " details on Spiritual Tools page A picture or statue of a lion, Sekmet, Arch Angel Michael, snake, sun, the color red Include items that are calling to be placed on the altar. Element of water " Color Blue Place of the setting Sun, the Emotional Realm; the place of reflection and introspection The place of endings, of death that is not an ending, but a transition to a new beginning. I call forth Magdalene that we might know alchemy, kindness and mercy. Element of Earth " Color Green or Black The place of Wisdom, Knowledge and Discernment; The place of the Grandmothers, Grandfathers; the Ancestors and the Ancient Ones The place of abundance, prosperity, sustenance, grounding, and physical manifestation; the Physical Realm; the place of rejuvenating rest, peaceful slumber, stillness, inner wisdom, North Star and the place of Mystery, the place where dreams begin We invite the energies of the Owl, Hummingbird, Wolf, Horse, Buffalo and Bull, White Buffalo Woman with Her strength and transformation of life. We call forth Archangel Uriel, Guardian of the North. We call upon the Goddess Isis and Her aspects of the warrior, the sage, the mother, the teacher and the healer. We invite Nuit, whose body holds the stars; Nu Kua, the Dragon-tailed Goddess, who is the restorer of Cosmic Equilibrium, the repairer and Organizer of the Universe, Great Spirit, you who are known by a thousand names Spirit Keepers "Energies of the Above join us; assist us this day. Stars, pictures or replicas of planets, solar systems, Arch Angels, Ascended Masters, colors of silver, gold, shiny, sparkly etc. Include items that are calling to be placed on the altar. Spirit Keepers "Energies of the Above join us; assist us this day. Stones and crystals, anything of the Earth, dark colored scarf or drape Include items that are calling to be placed on the altar. The place of timelessness and transformation. The place of the Void from which all things are born and to whom all things return Spirit Keepers "Energies of the Above join us; assist us this day. Sacred Space is also a very nice space to do crafts or art work in. When you are finished with your healing work or Rite, your Sacred Space must be closed. Remember to Release the Directions and give thanks to the energies that participated and assisted you in your circle. The last direction called is released first. Here are some suggested closings. Create, choose and group as you wish: You are free to go. Once you have released the Directions, you may finish off with: Merry meet, Merry part and merry meet again. This action clears away negative energy that you acquired during the day. This can be done with smoldering sage. For more options on smudging and purification see my article on Smudging and Purification on the Spiritual Tools page of my website www. If you came here first, check out my video on Calling in the Directions. Fellowship of Isis www.
