

Chapter 1 : CANCELED: Mirage Great Harbour N 37 boat in Merritt Island, FL |

Great Harbour Trawlers are rugged, roomy and unsinkable. with a shallow-draft, form-stable hull design that allows these boats to go anywhere from secluded inland waters to open ocean passages.

The natural beauty of The Berry Islands is extraordinary. Still spectacular and pristine, most of the islands are uninhabited, or owned by a single wealthy individual as a second home. Billfish, tuna, grouper, tiger fish, yellowtail snapper, wahoo, king mackerel, and many more species are abundant in the waters surrounding the islands. The beautiful, clear water also provides great locations for snorkelling and scuba diving. Haines Cay, a short kayak trip across Shark Creek, has 3. Great Harbour Cay underwent a period in intense and successful development in the late s when famous celebrities such as Cary Grant, Douglas Fairbanks Jr, and Brigitte Bardot holidayed here. Development slowed and then stopped in the late s, and the island has been quiet since. With the golf course designed by Joe Lee and constructed by Golf Force 9 holes of which are maintained , the full service marina, and other island attractions of fishing and diving, the island is a non-touristy haven for a peaceful getaway. Yet storms and big wind can bring these down for a time. Prepare to "unplug" off-and-on during your stay. There are no ATMs or banks. Carriearl and a few other businesses accept credit cards IF the internet is working, but please bring cash. The island boasts small shops, grocery stores, and a medical clinic with a full-time doctor. As a port-of-entry Customs and Immigration have a full service station here, and a high-profile police force rounds out the security and safety of the island. Daytime weather is typically sunny and humid, with temperatures in the high 90s in summer and 70s in winter. Clothing is informal, with t-shirts, shorts, and sandals welcome everywhere. Please, no caps at dinner. The marina has 65 slips and can accomodate boats up to ft. The gas stations and fuel dock are accessible by land and water. Both gas and diesel are readily available, as well as motor oil, 2-stroke oil, and fuel treatments. Call the Marina at for more information!

Outside covered porch and patio. Views from every room of ocean and islands. Very Private, very clean, ideal for beach lover, fisherman, bookworm. This is a single family cottage overly comfortable and views from every room. We are on the South end of the Island which when you arrive by plane you would continue south. The cottage is only about a quarter mile to what they call "shelling beach" if you look on a map. Slightly mixed experience at the Cottage. During our stay the weather was fantastic. The Cottage itself is set in an idyllic surrounding. However, one or two things left us feeling a little uncomfortable, which left an un-easy sense of tension during our 7 day stay we had booked to stay for 9. Upon arrival, there was no lock on the front door which allowed us to leave our belongings in the cottage when we went out. We were told that people on the island did not lock their houses for months on end, even when they left the island. Coming from a City, this was hard for us to take, especially because we had some very valuable personal belongings with us. There was however, "a knack" to locking the door from the inside. When we tried to ring the host on the night of our arrival to discuss this matter, our call did not go to a mobile but the house we were staying in. This made us feel uncomfortable. This resulted in us breaking one of the windows. Furthermore, our host seemed somewhat "under the influence" on our arrival. When we arrived, the fridge was full of various jars of food. Neither were we given an overview of how to use the appliances, cooker, air-con etc. This included me, my husband and When we raised why we had to pay for him, this fell on deaf ears. Not the host's fault per se. However, one would hope that they would have helped out in such a situation. He just shrugged his shoulders. We were able to make use of the bikes after requesting these upon arrival. The cottage itself has more than enough to keep comfortable. Wi-Fi is decent, the view of the ocean beautiful with absolute silence all around. However, it could have been so much more. Great location, quiet, private, clean. Sue and her husband were very kind and hospitable. We felt welcome as well as well guided on the particularities and practicalities of small island life. The house is cozy and clean. Wifi, phone, stove, fridge, the whole nine yards. The beach is super close, the dog is never seen, and the view is breathtaking. My Wife and I honeymooned there for six nights and it was the best vacation we have ever had. The water is like crystal, the fresh conch and restaurant are great. The place feels like your own exclusive getaway from the world. We lost track of time and what day it was. Fresh coconuts are plentiful, the fish is perfect. Bring bug spray JohnnyT He briefly showed us around. He also made us some fresh conch salad one night We loved the location also. Sue was a pleasure also.

Haines Cay has 3. The island was substantially damaged by Hurricane Andrew in , but has fully recovered since. Development[edit] Great Harbour Cay underwent a period in intense and successful development in the late s when famous persons such as Cary Grant, Douglas Fairbanks, Brigitte Bardot,[citation needed] Telly Savalas, and F. Lee Bailey vacationed here. Development slowed and then stopped in the late s. Attempts were made in the late s into the early s to revitalize Great Harbour Cay; but these were overshadowed by drug and weapons traffic in Book: The recently elected Bahamian government has made an effort to revive the tourism industry, especially on the outer islands, and great progress and interest as been rekindled in the smaller islands. Combined with the 9-hole golf course designed by Joe Lee and constructed by Golf Force , the full service marina, and other island attractions of fishing and diving, the island looks set for a surge in development. Certain actions in recent years, including repaving of the airport and all major roads, have led to increased interest in the island. The planned renovation of the water supply has not occurred, but has not had a major impact due to the large aquifer under the island and the widespread use of wells. There is only a small hotel on the island, catering principally to Bahamians, meaning lodging for tourists is limited to rental town houses and single family homes. There has been rumour of a new hotel yet to be confirmed. Sugar Beach Hotel[edit] Sugar Beach Hotel, a frequent haunt of the rich and famous, is now deserted. In the late s, Sugar Beach Hotel was operational as an entertainment facility for cruise ships. Dinghies would bring passengers ashore to listen to a band and dance for hours. In the late s, there was one building that served as a health facility, post office and operated assisted telephone. Across the street there was an old home converted into a school house. Shark Creek[edit] Shark Creek, the southernmost point of the island, is a popular shark fishing spot[citation needed]. A Great Hammerhead was reputedly caught off the coast near Ag point. The hammerhead in question was long known to be in the area and was documented to be over 20 feet 6. The shark has not been seen nor reported since being tagged in Manatees[edit] A female manatee and her mate were discovered in the harbour in December A young boy named Michael Morris documented a swim with the manatee on film. Its mate was rumoured to have spent many months around Great Harbour, but then became solitary once again leaving the female behind, who is believed to have had a calf some time in In , rescued manatee were brought from Atlantis to the island, where they quickly were accepted by the already present group.
